Legislation Might Close Money Gap

BY TIM WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — An association of officials of the state's largest cities was created here Wednesday to develop common grounds for legislation to ease the growing local revenue gap.

The informal group, which grew out of a session called by Madison Mayor Otto Festge, drew approval of representatives of more than a dozen of the state's largest municipalities. They voted to create the informal association, and to meet again next month in a two-day seminar to study proposals made for legislation designed to gain greater amounts of state taxes for their municipalities.

The meetings will be Feb. 22-23 in Oshkosh and will consider proposals made by both Festge and Milwaukee Mayor Henry Maier to raise funds for meeting exploding local fiscal deficits.

Representatives of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, in pushing for legislative remedies from the 1967 Legislature, have estimated the gap will be as large as $200 million for state cities by 1970.

The group refused to endorse specific proposals made by both Festge and Maier before consulting with local city councils, but elected Festge as chairman of the association and Harry

Football Games Given Credit for Cut in Road Toll

Many Motorists Became Television Viewers on Holidays

CHICAGO (AP) — The heavy fare of televised football on Christmas and New Year's holiday weekends was credited by one safety expert today with holding down the nation's traffic death tolls.

Eyes glued to the tube meant that cars were in garages and not on the road.

It may be just a theory but the fact is that during both three-day holiday weekends the death tolls broke no records. This reversed an upward trend of the preceding eight holiday periods.

The television football theory for low Christmas and New Year death tolls was advanced by Warren C. Nelson, Ohio's highway safety director.

'Near Screens' "The big roundup of bowl games on TV over the weekend might have kept many home viewers near their screens and not on the roads," he said.

The nation's three-day Christmas traffic toll was 584, well below the safety council's pre-holiday estimate of 650 to 750 deaths. The toll for the three-day New Year weekend was 469.

Remains Serious After Accident

Menasha Girl, 12, Shot by Rifle

MENASHA — A 12-year-old Menasha girl is in serious condition at Theda Clark Memorial Hospital today with a rifle bullet wound in her left shoulder, the result of an accidental shooting in a Town of Menasha home Wednesday night.

Debra Runnoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard U. Runnoe, 1087 Appleton Road, was struck by a 30-30 rifle slug fired by a 14-year-old friend in his family's home about 8 p.m.

Winnebago County Sheriff Department authorities said a juvenile referral would be made on the youth for reckless use of a firearm.

According to reports given authorities, the youth was playing with the rifle and loaded a bullet into it. He told police he thought the safety latch was on.

friends over to the house, including Debra. The others were aged from 10 to 15.

According to authorities, the youth first started playing with a shotgun and then with the rifle. After loading the rifle, he reportedly pointed it in the general direction of Debra, who was sitting on a davenport. He pulled the trigger and the bullet struck her in the shoulder.

With the aid of some of the youths, Debra walked home. Her parents were not home and she was carried to the home of a neighbor, who called the sheriff department and an ambulance.

Authorities at Theda Clark said the girl was operated on Wednesday night. The girl's father this morning said nerve tissue was destroyed by the bullet and part of the upper arm and shoulder blade had been shattered.

Mosinee Man Dies in Crash

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The death today of a rural Mosinee man whose car was involved in a collision with a pulpwood truck raised the Wisconsin traffic toll for 1967 to 11, three less than on this date in 1966.

Charles Suchon, 56, of route 3, Mosinee, died early today in St. Michael's Hospital in Stevens Point of injuries suffered Wednesday when his car and a truck collided at the intersection of Portage County Trunk X-ies and U. S. 51. Suchon's wife, Agnes, was reported in critical condition at the same hospital. The driver of the truck escaped injury.

Rescuers Reach Missing Airplane

3 in Illinois Family Were On Light Craft

FAIRPLAY, Colo. (AP) — A search party was reported today to have reached a missing plane high on the slopes of Mt. Sherman in the Colorado Rockies and two injured persons were lifted out by helicopter.

There were five persons aboard the craft, including an Illinois family of three and another Illinois man.

State Helicopter The passengers evacuated by helicopter were not identified immediately. The report said a state patrol helicopter landed close to the downed plane, the injured passengers were placed aboard and the helicopter then headed for Leadville, where they could be hospitalized.

The report came from the pilot of a plane circling the 14,037-foot Mt. Sherman.

The other three aboard the plane were being brought out by ground crews using snow vehicles.

Fog engulfed the mountain, 10 miles west of Fairplay, early today, but sunlight burned most of it away later.

A United Air Lines plane flying at about 18,000 feet reportedly picked up two transmissions Wednesday from the downed plane. One said, "We are down." The other reported, "We have injured aboard."

The United pilot said he would fly a radio pattern and asked the pilot of the Cessna to key his radio microphone when the United plane was directly overhead.

The Cessna pilot followed instructions, but the power of the downed plane weakened each time until it lost all contact. It was last heard from shortly after noon Wednesday.

Pinpoint Area

By keying the radio microphone, rescuers expressed belief that they were able to pinpoint the area in which the plane was down.

But howling winds, sometimes reaching 40 miles an hour, made it impossible to see anything, even only 100 feet ahead.

Those aboard the plane were identified as O. W. Rosengren, who has a small ranch where he breeds riding horses in St. Charles, Ill.; his wife, Lorraine; the couple's son, Jack, 20, who works at an auto agency; Charles Budde, 22, of St. Charles, a salesman at the auto agency and a friend of Jack's; and the pilot, Jimmy Williamson, 48, of Denver.

Southwest of Denver

The two helicopters were from Ft. Carson, about 100 miles southeast of Mount Sherman. The reported crash scene is 100 miles southwest of Denver.

One helicopter carried a group of Army alpinists with supplies and the second carried a paramedic team with medical equipment.

One-hundred ground searchers, some riding snow vehicles, and five Civil Air Patrol planes also were trying to reach the crash site.

Continue Attacks on Supply Barges

Two U.S. Planes Shot Down in Raids

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S. Navy pilots claimed a two-day score today of 188 North Vietnamese supply barges and junks destroyed or damaged and reported losing two carrier planes in their latest raids.

The Navy pilots reported hitting 77 more water craft during forays along the North Vietnamese coast Wednesday to add to 111 reported destroyed or damaged on the previous day.

Other American planes showed Hanoi with 2.2 million psychological warfare leaflets Wednesday and scattered 2.6 million more on other areas of North Vietnam.

The leaflets dropped on the North Vietnamese capital warned that if the Communists continue the war in the South, destruction will follow in the North, a U.S. spokesman said. The other leaflets cautioned the North Vietnamese people that their money would become worthless and less as the war went on.

Lull Continues

The ground war in South Vietnam continued in a lull as it has all this week. Both the U.S. and South Vietnamese military commands reported only minor skirmishes.

U. S. military headquarters reported an increase in American casualties last week — although it included 48 hours of Christmas and New Year truce — while South Vietnamese spokesmen listed a decrease in their casualties.

U.S. officials reported 128 Americans were killed and 634 were wounded, compared with 109 killed and 547 wounded in the previous week. The increase apparently was due to several sharp engagements, including one big action in the central highlands.

882 Reds Dead Vietnamese headquarters said 146 of their troops were killed last week and 14 were missing. The figures the week before were 203 killed and 37 missing.

Enemy casualties also were less. U.S. headquarters said 882 Communists were killed and 133 captured last week, compared

Heavy Snow in State, 2½ Inches in Appleton

Forecast Calls for More Tonight and Friday in Valley

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Up to seven inches of snow fell on parts of southern Wisconsin Wednesday night and early today, adding to a sizeable cover already on the ground.

The weather bureau said six to seven inches were reported unofficially in western and northwestern portions of the city of Milwaukee. The official amount, at Mitchell Field on the south side, was 3.6 inches. Pewaukee, in Waukesha County, had 6 inches of new snow.

Appleton recorded 2½ inches of new snow over the night, with the mercury dipping to 13 above zero. The outlook calls for snow in the Fox Valley tonight and Friday, although not as much as was recorded Wednesday.

Racine recorded 3 inches of new snow. Beloit had 2 inches. Madison, Lone Rock, La Crosse, Wausau, Eau Claire and Park Falls 1.

Temperature maximums Wednesday ranged from 30 at Milwaukee to 17 at Wausau.

Rhineland was the coldest place in the state early today with 3 below zero. Superior and Stevens Point had a low of 2 below, Eau Claire zero, Wausau, and Park Falls 7 above, La Crosse 10, Madison 12, Green Bay 14, Lone Rock 15, Beloit 19 and Racine and Burlington 27.

Almost Killed by U. S. Bombers

Two Americans Kept Viet Cong Happy by Singing

LONG BINH, South Vietnam (AP) — Two American civilians said today that during seven months as prisoners of the Viet Cong they got bad food but were not mistreated, sang songs for the Communists, were given a Christmas party and were almost killed by an American air raid.

"The Viet Cong were impressed by our cheerful attitude," said Thomas R. Scales, 44, of Matamoras, Pa. "We sang and whistled all the time. They asked us to sing and we sang 'Jingle Bells' and 'My Wild Irish Rose.' We're both lousy singers, but the Viet Cong seemed to like it."

Scales and Robert W. Monahan, 41, of Bellport, Long Island, were captured May 27 on a road near Vung Tau, 40 miles southeast of Saigon, where they were employed as supervisors for Pacific Architects and Engineers, an American firm working in South Vietnam under military contract.

They appeared before a large group of newsmen at a U. S. hospital to which they were brought following their release Wednesday near Xuan Loc, 40 miles northeast of Saigon.

Fair Condition Since their capture May 28, Scales had lost 55 pounds and now weighs 122. Monahan lost 75 pounds and now weighs 141. But except for malnutrition, they were pronounced in fair condition by Army doctors.

Wearing blue Army hospital pajamas, the pair said the Viet Cong told them they were released because they finally had shown repentance.

"We don't know what we repented for," said Scales. "They told us if we didn't repent we would spend five years in prison."

Scales, who is married and has one child, told of their capture. He said their vehicle broke down about 4 p.m. and they were suddenly "surrounded by about 10 Viet Cong armed with pistols, rifles and grease guns (a light automatic weapon)."

Scales said one of the Communists held a pistol to his forehead and another held a gun at the back of Monahan's head. He said they were blindfolded and bound and taken to the first of several different prisoner camps.

munists held a pistol to his forehead and another held a gun at the back of Monahan's head. He said they were blindfolded and bound and taken to the first of several different prisoner camps.

"For the first 14 days," Scales said, "we were tied with cables around our feet. But after that we were not bound or handcuffed. We were constantly guarded by at least two armed guards."

Forced Into Shelter Scales related that at one camp they were caught in a U. S. air strike. They threw themselves on the ground, he said, but their guards made them get up and run in bare feet to an air raid shelter.

"The shelter was a hole in the ground covered with timbers," Scales said.

Scales said the ground around them shook and they thought they would be killed in the air raid.

He said they were the only Americans in the camp but there were nine other prisoners, all Vietnamese.

About two months after their capture, he continued, the Viet Cong brought in a Philippine woman and her husband, also a Filipino.

They were Vincente Gaza, an employee of Air America, a contract airline, and his wife, Ophelia. Mrs. Gaza was released with Scales and Monahan and is under medical treatment at Xuan Loc. Her husband died a week ago while still in captivity.

'Seemed Impossible' "I always thought of escaping," said Monahan, a widower with three children, "but it always seemed impossible."

"We heard the (American) air raids almost every day. The Viet Cong took the air raids as a normal way of life."

Monahan said the Viet Cong had no idea of their professional skills as mechanical and construction engineers and they never asked. He said they did menial work such as digging trenches and air raid shelters.

In the prison camp they slept on floor mats in huts made of leaves mostly. Monahan said

See Weakening On Demand for Pre-Conditions

North Vietnamese, However, Hold Fast To Peace Dicta

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — For months there have been hints — or they could be so interpreted — that the North Vietnamese Communists might be softening conditions under which they might talk peace with the United States.

There is a vast distinction between agreeing to peace talks and a final agreement on peace. There has been no visible change at all on the conditions for peace laid down by the North Vietnamese long ago.

They put forth four points and have not departed from them. So any hints of a willingness to start talking peace — even if such talks began — is a long way from a final settlement.

But the Johnson administration has been anxious to get the talks started, at least, since they would have to be a necessary preliminary to any settlement anyway.

Less Rigid
Last fall, for instance, the administration proposed peace negotiations, only to see the gesture spurned by the Reds. Nevertheless, it was in the very process of spurning that some observers felt they saw less rigidity by Hanoi.

Now, according to the New York Times, Premier Phan Van Dong of North Vietnam says his government's four-point demands are not necessarily conditions for peace talks but rather a "basis for settlement of the Vietnam problem."

The Times' correspondent, Harrison E. Salisbury, interviewed the premier and quoted him as saying, "The big question is to reach a settlement which can be enforced."

In this interview the North Vietnamese leader expressed great willingness to wait for peace talks or a peace settlement, saying, "We cannot press history forward."

Exasperating to U.S.
This "we're not in a rush" attitude is, and has been, exasperating to the American mind which wants peace and wonders how such a small nation as North Vietnam has the gall to keep on fighting a giant like the United States.

But the North Vietnamese mind is Asian, not American, and can be very ambiguous. Its ambiguities in this war go away back. For instance:

Even more than a year ago it was not clear from North Vietnam's statements whether it new, more equitable formula, was saying the United States must withdraw all its forces; sharing systems below that before peace talks can begin or simply saying they must be withdrawn before there can be peace.

The first of North Vietnam's four conditions for a peaceful solution demanded that all U.S. troops and weapons must be withdrawn and there must be an end to acts of war against the North before there can be a settlement.

Specific Conditions
These were, and are, North Vietnam's other three points:

Neither side, North or South, must have any alliance with a foreign power, pending reunification of North and South; any settlement in South Vietnam must be in accordance with the program of the Viet Cong; and the reunification of the two Vietnams must be done without outside influence.

But this isn't quite the way the United States sees a peace settlement, if it is to have reality and meaning.

At the Manila conference last October — with the heads of six allied nations involved in this war, including South Vietnam — President Johnson agreed essay to stay in South Vietnam, among other things that. The

Beer Tax Hike
Pending before the group were proposals ranging from a $1-a-barrel tax increase on beer — proposed by Festge but opposed by Maier — to suggestions for a redistribution of a major share of all future increases in taxes collected by the state for sharing with municipalities.

Maier offered a three-point program endorsing the latter approach after warning the mayors not to expect any increase in local taxing powers from the 1967 Legislature, which, he said, will operate in "an anti-local tax atmosphere."

Maier, a former Democratic state senator, blamed Republican legislative leaders and the bipartisan Legislative Council for the attitude.

Sharing of Taxes
He called for a redistribution of utility taxes, with emphasis on business areas of utilities and less on plant locations; a 50-50 sharing of all selective shared taxes collected above a $100 million total based on a new, more equitable formula, with a continuation of existing sharing systems below that level; and a new formula for shared state income taxes above the $85 million level. That, he said, would insure cities of not losing present support levels in the future.

But it also would insure larger cities of more benefits from additional taxes collected under present revenue schemes in the future.

Maier's plans could add $10 million annually to the property tax relief fund, he said. Festge proposed taking positions on a proposed "wheel tax," a local gross income tax and a hotel and motel room tax — all voted down by the Legislative Council — and an allied forces will be withdrawn "as the other side withdraws its forces to the North, ceases infiltration, and the level of violence thus subsides."

There was a big loophole in this, of course: The allies would do the deciding when the "level of violence" had subsided.

At the Manila conference last October — with the heads of six allied nations involved in this war, including South Vietnam — time and therefore think it necessary to stay in South Vietnam, among other things that. The increase in the beer tax to be used for educational purposes.

Other Problems
Positions also might be taken, he suggested, on suburban tax islands and annexation problems.

The League of Wisconsin Municipalities already has supported some of the proposals but is unable to support others because it represents municipalities of all sizes, some of which would be hurt by certain of the proposals, Festge said.

Terming local government "at the crossroads," he added that leaders of the state's larger cities must band together to create widespread political support for such moves.

But a sizeable contingent of the officials recommended instead that time be allowed for study on the proposals with city councils.

Opposed by Two
Open opposition came from at least two sources, both mayors of Milwaukee suburbs. Ervin Meier of Wauwatosa and Arnold Klentz of Waukesha said they would not support any redistribution plans until it is proven their state aids will not be decreased by such a shift.

Milwaukee's Maier had claimed that "a majority of state cities, large and small," will benefit by the plans which he intends to have introduced in the coming legislative session. Attending the meeting were officials from Appleton, Eau Claire, Fond du Lac, Janesville, Kenosha, LaCrosse, Madison, Manitowish, Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Sheboygan, Waukesha, Wausau, Wauwatosa and West Allis.

Invited but not sending representatives were Beloit, Green Bay, Racine and Superior. Green Bay and Racine rank among the state's four most populous cities.

The council had estimated 460 to $40. A year earlier, the New Year toll was 564 for a three-day period, a record. The 720 Meier of Wauwatosa and Arnold Klentz of Waukesha said they would not support any redistribution plans until it is proven their state aids will not be decreased by such a shift.

they both were confident they would be released some day. He said they did not know what convinced the Viet Cong to free them finally or what they had "repented for."

He said the captors were constantly complimenting them for their cheerful attitude.

Prayer Service
At Christmas time, Scales related, they were given a hut in which to hold a party. He and Monahan, his friend of 10 years, held a little prayer service and then a party.

He said the Viet Cong gave them molasses, peanuts and to-bacco for the party.

Scales said the Viet Cong also gave them a licorice-tasting liquor called Anri for the party.

He said they learned about the Christmas truce in the war and during the truce they heard

U. S. observation planes but no bombing.

Scales said both had a tough time adjusting to a rice diet which is why they lost so much weight.

He also told of a release ceremony the Viet Cong held just before they were set free.

"Everyone sat around a table and made speeches," Scales related. "We stood up and gave our views on how we were treated. They gave us molasses, tobacco and peanuts. They gave us release certificates which were good for 15 days. A doctor examined us and said we were in good enough shape to travel."

Began Journey
The next day they gave us shower slippers. We began our journey and walked five or six days through the jungle. The shower slippers kept falling off in the rain, and I had to tie them on with a string.

"We were supposed to walk to a village where a man would take us on a bus to Saigon. They gave us each 100 piasters to pay the bus fare. But instead, our five guards walked us to a village and handed us over to S. Vietnamese soldiers who took us to an American camp."

Monahan said that although the food was bad, they were not mistreated.

"We ate mostly rice and fish," he reported.

He said at 11 o'clock at night their captors would bring them a radio and they would listen to a news broadcast from Hanoi in English.

Monahan said he tried to tell his captors that they were civilians.

"They made it clear to us," he continued, "that in their opinion there is no such thing as a civilian in this war. Every American and every allied civilian are essentially soldiers in their minds."

30-Day Leaves
A representative of their employer said after their recuperation the two men will be given 30-day leaves to visit their families in the United States. The official said they were offered the choice of going to work in Thailand after their leaves or returning to Vietnam, and both elected to come back here.

The committee, which has hearings scheduled Friday in Madison and Saturday in Milwaukee, also heard protests against a re-organization of the state conservation agencies, and changes in the Grain and Warehouse Commission arrangement.

centration 60 miles south of Da Nang.

On the ground, U.S. headquarters reported 15 Communist soldiers were killed in three scattered actions Wednesday and 13 more were captured. The South Vietnamese command reported 33 of the enemy killed in five small encounters.

Strength to 389,000
U.S. headquarters reported American troop strength in South Vietnam rose to 389,000 as the year ended last Saturday. This represented an increase of 13,000 last week.

Much of the troop increase was due to the arrival of large numbers of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division, a spokesman said.

Terrorism continued in Saigon, as it has all week. Two Vietnamese on a motorbike threw a grenade into a U. S. Army jeep near Tan Son Nhut Airbase. Two U.S. soldiers in the jeep jumped out, and the empty jeep rolled on some distance before the grenade exploded.

The soldiers escaped injury from the grenade but were hurt in the jump from the moving jeep, the spokesman said.

High Demand Expected for AMC Workers

KENOSHA (AP) — American Motors employees scheduled to be laid off next week will have about a dozen companies interested in their services, says an official of the Wisconsin State Employment Service.

K. J. Kavanaugh, manager of the Kenosha employment service, said Wednesday most of the firms are from Illinois.

A mobile recruiting office for Fairbanks, Morse & Co. of Beloit is to be set up in Kenosha to interview some of the 2,100 to be laid off there. Willet S. Main, Milwaukee's employment service manager, said the State Industrial Commission's recruiting trailer may be pressed into service as 2,000 AMC employees are laid off at the Milwaukee body plant.

Religious Arguments Avoided By Dad's Invisible Invention

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was 84 on October 3rd. I have 13 living children, eight daughters and five sons, all married. They have blessed me with 39 grandchildren. No devils, no angels, just grandchildren.

We had a large home and it was reasonably harmonious most of the time, but with 13 children you can guess we had a variety of folks passing through. At times there were heated arguments about religion. Our children went with Mormons, Jews, Catholics, Jehovah's Witnesses, Buddhists and others. (Some married into these faiths.) One day when an argument about religion was in full swing, I took the group out to the front porch. I asked them to look at the wall just inside the door. "What is on the wall?" they asked.
"Hooks," I replied.
"We don't see any hooks," they said.
"They are invisible," I explained. "And they are there for a purpose. Everyone who walks into this house must hang his religion on a hook when he enters, and take it with him when he leaves."
There hasn't been an argument about religion in our house since that day. And the folks present must have passed the word to others because those hooks have been in constant use ever since. — Dad M. O. Seattle.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I liked your answer to the mother who was having trouble with her middle child. She felt she should treat all her children alike to avoid favoritism. You told her that each child should be dealt with according to his needs.

My psychology teacher believed as you do, and I will always remember the example she used. Here it is:
A certain mother thought she was being fair to her children by treating them all alike. One day she gave each of her three children exactly the same sized piece of chocolate cake — to avoid "Favoritism."
The oldest child didn't care very much for sweets, but he ate the chocolate cake and said it was O.K. The second child was crazy about chocolate cake and asked for more — but his mother refused, saying, "No you all get the same." The third child hated chocolate cake and left his piece on the plate untouched.
If that mother had been wise she would have recognized the special needs of her children and dealt with them accordingly instead of treating them all alike. Please print this letter if you think it has merit. — Good Memory.

Songs That Filled the Summer nights were sung again in winter sunshine Thursday as camp counselors and children who attended the Christ Child Society's summer camp for retarded youngsters met for a winter reunion. Above are counselors Mary Warning, Mary Kaye Samsa and Mike Gregorious,

Christ Child Campers Recall Sun, Fun

During the last week in August, the Christ Child Society sponsored a camp for retarded children. For the second consecutive year, the society, with volunteer trained counselors, used facilities at Camp Tekakwitha after the Catholic girls had finished their own camping season.

In December, with snow heavy on the ground and the camp snug against winter, those summer days filled with swimming, games, boating and friendships came back to life, filled with laughter and music, and as heart-warming as the sun on an August afternoon.

Campers and counselors met Thursday afternoon at Plamann School for the reunion, with Mrs. Alvin Gloudeman showing slides taken during camp week. Mrs. George Hahn was reunion chairman.

Not All the Memories belonged to the campers. The young men and women who worked at the week-long camp had their own share of reminiscing to do. Above are counselors Sara Solie, Kris Kells and Linda Miller. (Post-Crescent Photos)

UW Tells Plans for Apparel Design Program

Modern apparel design demands well trained, creative people to meet competition in all aspects of manufacture and distribution. To meet special professional training requirements the textiles and clothing departments of the School of Home Economics, University of Wisconsin, Madison, are offering an apparel design major.

To give students the advantages of costume libraries, museum studies, contacts with leading designers and the apparel industry, the junior year will be spent in New York City.

Until Smallpox Eradicated Everywhere, Vaccination Vital

The oldest immunization procedure to protect against disease is vaccination against smallpox.

Smallpox vaccination was first announced in 1796 by an English country doctor who observed that milkmaids who contracted cowpox from the udders of cows acquired an immunity to distinguishing, deadly smallpox.

The Surgeon General of the United States this winter again reminds parents that all children should be vaccinated against smallpox between their first and second birthdays. Smallpox has been wiped out in the United States, but it still is common in some other areas of the world and there always is a risk that it may be brought in by a traveler.

Traveler's Responsibility
Americans planning vacations abroad are reminded that new smallpox certificates for international travel are required beginning Jan. 1, 1967. Certificates issued prior to Jan. 1 will continue to be valid for the period they previously covered, which is three years for travelers returning from abroad. A new printed form is now available for those being vaccinated after Jan. 1. It includes information on the type of vaccine used and the origin of the batch from which the dosage was taken.

The new certificate must be completed by the physician, and must include his written signature. The traveler has the responsibility to have his certificate authenticated by the local or state health officer in the area in which the immunizing physician practices.

In addition to primary vaccination during the second year of life, revaccination is recommended at the time of entry into elementary school; a three-year interval for international travelers and for persons likely to be exposed, such as physicians, nurses and other health workers; at approximately ten-year intervals for others.

The 1966 World Health Assembly agreed to launch a ten-year smallpox eradication program to wipe out the disease everywhere. An intensive program is now underway in most of West Africa.

Until worldwide eradication is achieved, the people of the United States should be vaccinated against smallpox, the Surgeon General declares.

Are you and your family properly protected against smallpox? Check your family health record for dates of your latest immunizations. If your time interval has lapsed, see your doctor. The risk of catching smallpox in the United States is very small, but it is an unnecessary risk.

High-Low New Fashion

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
NEW YORK (AP) — The new math for women's fashions goes like this: For daytime wear subtract as much as the law allows from the bottom. For evening subtract that much from the top.

There is also a lot of multiplication of pleats in the new suits and division — long and short — of skirts into party pajamas, culottes and even boxer shorts. The style lesson began Wednesday for more than 230 newswomen here for the New York Couture Group's semi-annual press week activities and will continue through Sunday.

Leggy lasses in the Monte Sano and Pruzan collection wore good examples of the first axiom. Their skirts were short and spare, while jackets were wide at the shoulder, high-necked, or built up even further with scarves.

As the finery got fancier, the neckline got barer. Witness the keyhole necked costume. The Junior Sophisticate house began a parade of cold shoulders, a trend continued later in the evening wear by Cameo and by Harvey Berin's designer Karen Stark. One-shoulder togas, string straps, deep dipping décolletage and no-shoulder wraparounds were among the regal gowns in slinky crepes or wispy chiffons that reached the ground.

A second fashion rule for women who insist on sleeves in their party dresses is to wear it with a coat with subtracted sleeves. Sharply sophisticated, were Cameo's black-and-white panel crepe dresses, some with sleeves, some without shoulder covers.

'Chameleon' Clothes of Future To Absorb Environment's Decor

BY JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Time: 1990. The scene: a typical contemporary home, an ever-changing, pulsating, psychedelic scene.

To change the decor, the lady of this house changes the film in her hidden cameras. She finds any number computerized to suit her momentary mood.

Her wardrobe of exotic hooded kaftans or ephemeral floaty fabrics matches the decor. The intensive pinhole-sized lights bounce the same colorful patterns on these clothes. Thus she has no need to do much shopping. She always has something different to wear.

Ocular Onslaught
When going out, her costume, chameleon-like, takes on the decor of her new environment. She needs no make-up. The hostess' choice film patterns dance on her face as well as her apparel. Altogether it is a garish ocular onslaught.

Interior decorators and textile designers have given up their by then obsolescent trades to learn to make runny, wiggly, jumpy, slides and film.

At least this is the eerie, sometimes frightening and often awesomely beautiful future photo which fabric designer Jack Lenor Larsen sees in his crystal ball.

Despite the technical limitations — light intensity that will defy daylight, for example — Larsen, lens artist Don Snyder, and ready-to-wear designer Gerald Pierce combined talents recently to demonstrate how things may be perhaps even earlier than in 1990.

The National Home Fashions League and its guests were an experimental audience as the Plaza hotel ballroom plunged into blackness. Moans shattered the silence. Then there were seemingly the heavy breathing of an animal, high pitched wails, and then the beat, beat of the avant garde musical (?) group of Peter Walker.

On a curtain a single red circle pulsed like an aching eyeball. Then the walls became alive with the kaleidoscopic patterns of cellular matter, one pattern over another. Light researcher Snyder had treated his slides with paint, heat and chemicals to create his magical forms.

Inexpensive Design
Then tomorrow's homemakers glided onstage, folding and unfolding themselves in their voluminous robes made, naturally, of Caprolan nylon knits — after all Allied Chemical was footing the bills — some were feathered or emblazoned with mirror insets.

Instead of doing the dishes — surely no woman will be bothered with household chores in another 24 years — these ladies of the house danced dream-like to the choreography of Mary McKay.

Meanwhile, at the microphone Larsen was interpreting the visual breakthrough.

"Interior design using an ever-changing array of projected color and pattern can be as universally and inexpensively available as recorded music," he said.

Project Print Images
"Art can be projected against, rather than hung on the wall. And the patterns themselves open significant new areas of print design."

Indeed, instead of waiting for the future in film, fabric designer Larsen is already utilizing some of the projected images as prints for a new collection of dresses and leisurewear.

They don't change or pulse, not yet. To many of the viewers of the psychedelic assault promised for tomorrow, today's static prints were comforting.

Freezing Affects Fresh Foods' Flavor, Aroma

How long cooked foods are left before freezing and length of thawing time both affect flavor and aroma. The quicker the handling of food the better the taste will be, according to Dorothy Strong, food scientist at the University of Wisconsin.

If precooked frozen food tastes and smells differently from fresh food it may be due to bacterial action. In a study to determine the effect of certain microorganisms on precooked foods a taste panel reported that in some cases food flavor and aroma was affected by them.

Made Comparison
Six kinds of bacteria and one mold were introduced into three kinds of precooked frozen foods — macaroni and cheese, blueberry pie and beef gravy. After varying times in the freezer the bacteria-treated samples were compared with freshly prepared foods.

aforethought where there has been no thought.

When today's hand was played, for example, South murdered his contract at the very first trick, but nobody can possibly believe that thought had anything to do with the case. West led the ten of clubs, and declarer played the queen of clubs from dummy.

South's contract groaned and died right then, but South didn't find out about it until a few tricks later.

East put up the king of clubs, at the first trick, and South won with the ace. Declarer drew trumps and led a club, losing to East's eight. Back came a spade, and South had to try the finesse. The defenders thus got two clubs, one spade and one diamond.

Obvious Lead

If South thinks about the opening lead he must realize that the ten of clubs is either a singleton or the top of the doubleton 10-8. In either case it cannot do any good to play the queen of clubs from dummy.

If South plays low from dummy at the first trick, East follows with the eight. South plays low. South knows he must lose two club tricks, but he wants to lose one of them to West rather than to East.

Since West cannot safely lead spades, he switches to a trump. South draws trumps, takes the ace of clubs and gives up a club. Now when East leads a spade, South does not need the finesse. He takes the ace of spades and runs the last two spades, discarding the queen of spades on dummy's fifth club.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one club, and the next player passes. You hold S A Q, H Q J 10 9 4, D Q 4, C A 5 3 2. What do you say? Answer: Bid one heart. The hand is not quite worth an immediate jump to two hearts. If you changed the four of hearts to the king of hearts, the hand would be worth a jump response of two hearts.

Deeper Understanding of Retarded Sought Through Unusual Friendship

By RALPH DIGHTON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — From a shadowy realm where eyes see dimly, mouths mumble and brains black out in the fury of mysterious electrical storms has come an almost incredible story of togetherness.

The story is that of Lennie, 28, and Ricky, 33, physically and mentally defective from birth — human vegetables in psychiatric parlance.

They live under constant observation in a ward at Pacific State Hospital in nearby Pomona with 72 others who are retarded.

Almost invariably these, the world's unfortunates, are "loners" — seemingly incapable of knowing that warm human experience called friendship.

Yet Lennie and Ricky are all but inseparably friendly.

Seek Understanding

So unique is their bond that scientists are studying them in quest of a better understanding of the elusive emotions that enable humans to enjoy togetherness, even to the point of sharing things they might be expected to reserve for themselves.

Ricky is blind. Most of what he knows of the world comes to him through Lennie's eyes. Lennie is almost speechless, except with Ricky, but he communicates to others through Ricky's lips.

Lennie is badly crippled out he can see and he leads blind Ricky wherever the two want to go on the spacious grounds of the hospital.

They share everything. Lennie guards Ricky's tray at mealtime from other patients in the ward — but he is not above stealing food from other patients' trays. Lennie gets gifts from his parents and divides them meticulously with Ricky.

Comforts Him

Ricky, who has no known relatives, does what he can in return. When Lennie is in the throes of epileptic seizures — brain storms in which he can hurt himself severely unless restrained — Ricky cradles Lennie's head in his arms.

Each has an IQ in the 30's. While psychologists puzzle over what it may be that draws them together, Lennie and Ricky live out their limited lives.

Each morning they greet one another with broad smiles. Although their conversation is largely unintelligible to others, they talk and joke together with obvious delight. When they sit beside each other on a bench in the sun, their faces and hands become expressive and Ricky's sightless eyes seem to sparkle and come alive.

They have been inseparable since Lennie entered the hospital 10 years ago. Ricky had never shown the slightest interest in other patients until Lennie arrived.

Now, Lennie frequently says to no one in particular: "I like Ricky."

Stylists to Rely on Synthetics; Fashion's Future Unlimited

NEW YORK (AP) — Although it appears today that apparel may disappear mini-inch by mini-inch, designers still think fashion is here to stay for another decade or so.

In the eyes of Emilio Pucci, lord of tight silk pants and gaudy prints, homes will be sparsely furnished.

"The decor of house will be women's clothes," he says. "we will use clothes as art."

On the other hand, one of Lady Bird Johnson's favorite designers, Adele Simpson, is not so sure that the female species will be as esthetically attired as all that.

"We're approaching such a great scientific era that clothes will have relative unimportance," she says, in the same breath concluding that she of all designing people should not be saying such things. "I suspect we'll all be wearing some sort of insulated underwear and will be tying or snapping things onto this."

And yet designers agree about these things:

Chemical fibers as yet undiscovered will determine the kind of garments we will wear.

Generate Heat

Costumes will generate their own heat, or will encourage the body to produce the exact healthful body temperatures needed.

"The end has come to cutting a beautiful fabric into innumerable pieces and taking three weeks to sew them back together again," declares Ruben Torres, a 35-year-old designer for Warner Brothers lingerie.

For this firm he has molded bras and girdles and underwear, just the beginning for a fabulous future of stretch and molded fabrics which he foresees.

Betsy Johnson, an avant garde designer most sought after despite her mere 23 years, has already created costumes so startling to some that they are acceptable only in the sophisticated cities.

Here are her ideas:

"Sewing machines and expensive labor will be out. A tunic kind of thing over tights will come about, I think. Fabric houses will have to set machines to do tubular lengths and shapes.

No Sewing Machines

"Leather is leather, and I wouldn't want a synthetic. But there are so many chemical substances with distinctive and potential personalities of their own — plastics tomorrow may really be breathable and malleable . . .

"Paper dresses? I don't accept them as they are, not until they actually work as any other dress, not just as paper.

New Materials

"What I hope to see is other woven materials — woven steel or lucite. Can you imagine how attractive woven colored wiring would be?

"Yes, I think heat will be built in, but I think wires and batteries will be confusing. I know batteries are campy now, but for the future I think the fabric itself will generate the bodily heat. We ourselves will be the perfect, unfailing thermostats."

America's great distaff designer, Pauline Trigere, agrees in part.

"I feel certain that materials made by man will be immediately attuned to the climate and will be very pliable.

Look to Future

"Women will wear some sort of body covers because they like to accumulate things . . . I imagine that they will collect amusing frivolities to put on themselves in one way or

Supervisors Refuse to Pay Dues for Bar Associations

Stating that it was part of a new policy, members of the Outagamie County Board's executive committee Wednesday refused to pay Wisconsin Bar Association dues for Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer and A. W. Ponath, county corporation counsel.

The action came when the committee was presented with vouchers for dues from the two county officials. The vouchers were for $20 each.

Appleton Supv. Patrick Mares moved to deny the payments, saying that the executive committee earlier decided it would no longer pay the men's dues to the American Bar Association and the Outagamie County Bar Association.

Sylvester Esler, county board chairman, said that Schaefer and Ponath would belong to the associations and would have to pay their own dues if they were attorneys on their own.

The vote to refuse dues payments Wednesday was unanimous.

The committee also denied a request that the county take a half-page advertisement in Wolf River Country magazine, at a cost of $175.

Mary Garden Of Opera Fame Dies in Scotland

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP) — Mary Garden, one of the last survivors of the golden age of opera, will be cremated Saturday in Aberdeen. A public funeral will be held at the crematorium and her ashes will be scattered in its Garden of Remembrance.

The world-famed soprano, one of the first opera stars to act as well as sing, died Tuesday at the age of 92 after five years in a hospital here in her native city.

Although there were some dissenting opinions about the quality of her singing, Miss Garden's strong soprano voice, her beauty and dramatic ability and her outspoken charm made her an idol of operagoers in the United States and Europe from 1900 until her retirement in 1931.

Never Wed

She became a friend of kings, presidents and the wealthy, and wrote a book about her operatic successes and lovers. But she put her career ahead of romance and never married.

When she died Tuesday, enfeebled and alone, there was a Christmas card from an unidentified American admirer above her bed.

Born Feb. 20, 1874, Miss Garden was brought to the United States by her parents when she was 6. She studied the violin and piano then went to Paris at 22 as a voice student.

She was in the audience at the Opera Comique four years later — on Friday, April 13, 1900 — when the star became ill in the third act of Charpentier's "Louise." She took over the role and sang it for 100 performances.

Just for Her

Claude Debussy created the role of Melisande for her in "Pelleas et Melisande," which opened in Paris two years later. "You are the only Melisande," the composer wrote in her score.

In 1907, Miss Garden made her American debut in "Thais" in New York, where she sang at the Manhattan Opera House under the sponsorship of Oscar Hammerstein I. She moved to Chicago three years later and sang with the Civic Opera Company there for 21 years.

She became general manager of the Chicago company in 1921 but resigned after a year of tempestuous clashes with other artists and a huge deficit.

Miss Garden returned to Aberdeen after her retirement from opera but continued to give concerts, lectures and broadcasts. She returned to the United States a number of times, the last in 1954.

Parolee Gets 3 Months for Fleeing Arrest

Was Sentenced in Minnesota on Count Of Armed Robbery

Howard F. Capener, 23, taken into custody following a chase Wednesday noon that started in The Post-Crescent newsroom where he worked, this morning was sentenced to three months in the Outagamie County Jail after he pleaded guilty of resisting arrest.

Minnesota authorities indicated this morning they probably will return Capener to that state as a parole absconder after he has served the sentence here.

Capener was in County Court Branch 2 this morning under guard of three county officers. He wore a restraining belt to which his hands were cuffed.

Was Parolled
Capener, who was parolled from the Minnesota State Reformatory at St. Cloud Nov. 3, had served two years of a 20-year sentence for armed robbery.

It was learned this morning from Minnesota authorities that Capener was arrested following a $3,000 armed robbery at a Minneapolis delicatessen about 25 months ago. Capener reportedly was armed with a loaded .45 caliber pistol when the robbery was committed.

It also was learned that he committed a similar offense in California and served a nine-

Gov. Knowles Renames 4 to Resource Unit

MADISON (AP) — Gov. Warren P. Knowles said Wednesday he would reappoint four members of the State Resource Development board whose terms are due to expire Jan. 15.

John Strange of Appleton, president of the Institute of Paper Chemistry, will be reappointed for a two-year term.

John Potter of Wisconsin Rapids, currently chairman of the board that sets policy for the state's war of water pollution, will be renamed for a one-year term.

Receiving three-year terms will be Douglas Weiford, Eau Claire city manager, and Russell Lynch, former conservation writer for the Milwaukee Journal.

The other three members who will continue on the board are University of Wisconsin Prof. Gerard Rohlich, William H. Cartwright and O.J. Muegge, all of Madison.

Appleton to Draft Car-Key Ordinance

City Attorney Will Outline Details Of Plan to Cut Down Car Thefts

City Atty. David Geenen was authorized by the Appleton Council Wednesday night to draft an ordinance making it illegal to leave ignition keys in unattended vehicles in Appleton. The action came on the heels of recommendations from the public safety committee, and from local, state and federal law enforcement officials.

Several cities already have such a law on the books to cut down the incidence of car theft.

Many Thefts
Appleton has an unusually high car theft record but at the same time the police department has been making an almost 100 per cent recovery of stolen vehicles.

Details of the proposed ordinance will be spelled out by Geenen.

The council also:
—Recommended the public safety committee hold a joint meeting with the park-recreation commission Jan. 17 to discuss the need for a curfew in the parks.

—Asked for a Jan. 16 meeting with the Project 85 Committee of the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce to discuss landscaping for College Avenue when it is reconstructed this spring.

Approve Pickup
—Gave approval to a transfer system of garbage and rubbish pickup to be demonstrated here this winter and next spring.

—Authorized the mayor and city clerk to enter into a contract for the City of Appleton with the Appleton Baseball Club, Inc. to use Goodland Field and have concession rights.

—Recommended that some individual in city government be made responsible for compiling, and coordinating, along with keeping an updated library, on

Spice Will Draw Lowest Pay Possible as New Undersheriff

Executive Committee Makes Ruling Behind Closed Doors

Calvin L. Spice, who earlier this week completed two terms as Outagamie County Sheriff and who now is undersheriff for Norbert J. Marx, begins his new duties at the lowest salary in his pay grade.

Spice's new salary was set Wednesday afternoon by the county board's executive committee which, after considerable discussion and two different votes, (one following a closed-door session) decided it would treat Spice as a new county employee, in pay grade 19.

Spice, who served nearly 11 years on the Outagamie County Traffic Patrol before being elected sheriff in 1962, will draw $677 a month. He earned $8,300 as sheriff, although the sheriff's salary as of Jan. 1 jumped to $9,000.

The matter of undersheriff salary came up late in the morning committee session at which time, after a short discussion, the 10 supervisors present voted unanimously to start Spice as a new employee.

Supv. Emmett Root of the Town of Ellington pointing out that when a county employee is elected to public office, he severs his employment, stated, "If you work in a mill and quit, you start over."

Root got support from Appleton Supv. Patrick Mares and from Supv. Joseph DeBruin of the Town of Buchanan who said, that if he (DeBruin) were named undersheriff, he would have to start at the bottom of the grade 19 scale. Spice should have to do the same.

At Sheriff's Call
Supv. Marvin Babbitt, county board vice chairman, contended that the committee (which also serves as the civil service and salary unit) could not allow for Spice's long experience because "he is at the call of the sheriff who, if he wanted, could fire him at any time."

Sheriff Marx, during the afternoon session, recommended that the committee reconsider its earlier action and asked that Spice, because of his 20 years of full-time police experience, be placed at the top of Grade 19. Marx stated, in a letter to the committee, that Civil Service ordinances permit other than minimum starting pay if experience is a factor.

A Post-Crescent reporter was asked by supervisors to leave the executive committee meeting when Marx began his discussion about 3 p.m.

When the reporter inquired to the nature of the forthcoming discussions, County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler said only that it concerned personnel. When the reporter replied that merely discussions concerning personnel are not legal grounds for closing a public meeting, at least one of the supervisors turned to the sheriff and asked him if he had the power to remove persons from a closed meeting.

However, Esler quickly explained that the discussion would involve "wages for the sheriff and undersheriff." The reporter then left, at 3 p.m. Marx came out of the closed committee room at 3:10 p.m. and the closed session was over at 4:35 p.m.

Although the nature of the discussion behind closed doors was not revealed, supervisors, immediately after the meeting again was opened, repeated their unanimous vote to start Spice at the bottom of grade 19 — as a new employee.

Marx pointed out later that Spice will be paid less than either of the two sheriff's department lieutenants and all four of the traffic sergeants — two of whom have held the posts less than seven months. Marx indicated he intends to take further steps in appealing the executive committee decision.

Grand Jury Probe In Oconto County

OCONTO — Dist. Atty. John Wiebusch announced Wednesday that a grand jury investigation into possible misconduct in public office in the Town of Townsend will open on Feb. 28.

National Citation

Chilton Wins Safety Award

CHILTON — Police Chief Daniel Albedyll, Mayor Harry Thompson and William Engler Jr., Kiwanis past president, were present at a Madison awards banquet today to accept the National Safety Council award for the city's "excellent vehicle safety check" last spring.

Albedyll had been notified in August that Chilton was judged one of five winners in the nation for cities of 10,000 and under population.

Notification came both from M. R. Darlington Jr., of the national vehicle safety check committee and from the National Safety Council in Washington, D.C.

The award had been conferred by a national board of judges which met in Washington, D.C., early in August.

Award winners were determined on the basis of scrapbook presentations made by the city and county groups conducting local safety checks. Points considered in judging were the overall quality of the program, community-wide participation and percentage of vehicles checked and re-checked.

The safety check program here was sponsored by the Chilton Kiwanis Club and the city police. Albedyll was safety check chairman and coordinator of local activities. Motorcycles also were checked.

Chilton was one of several thousand communities participating in the nationwide program sponsored annually by the auto industries, Highway Safety Committee and Look Magazine with the cooperation of the association of state and provincial safety coordinators.

The Chilton award was the top honor received in the state. Other recipients were the cities of Oshkosh and Milwaukee; Door, Waukesha and Milwaukee counties, and Wisconsin State University-Platteville.

Buckley at Conference

Mayors Seek Way To Ease Tax Gap

Mayor George Buckley of Appleton said today it was "quite obvious" mayors and officials from Wisconsin's 20 most populated cities crave property tax relief for their communities.

"I was fully in accord with everything said and action taken at a meeting held at Madison Wednesday," Buckley commented when asked his reaction.

Buckley said the meeting, called by the mayor of Madison, was well attended and that he planned to attend and participate in the next session at Oshkosh late in February.

Shared Tax Formula

The Madison conference was called for the purpose of getting mayors and others, including several from the Fox Valley, to express views on the state's shared tax distribution formula and to discuss legislation favorable to the plight of growing cities.

"Everybody agreed the property tax is getting unbearable and state legislation will be needed to help relieve the situation," Buckley said.

City Planner Walter Rasmussen, who accompanied Buckley, engaged in the discussion which covered a wide range of subjects and problems confronting urban centers.

Recorded Comments
"I listened and taped," Buckley added, the latter a reference to the fact that he recorded comments of officials on the key issues before the group.

"It was generally agreed and endorsed by all of us that the real estate taxpayer is in need of some relief in the best and fastest manner possible," Buckley asserted.

Buckley said almost to the man, everyone who spoke appeared to be "very concerned" and wanted to impress upon the state legislature the seriousness of the tax revenue gap being experienced by Wisconsin's growing cities.

The 20 cities invited to send representatives to the Madison meeting have 60 per cent of the combined population of 567 cities and villages in the state.

Grace Period Ends, Police to Issue Citations

Appleton police are hoping motorists begin noticing the new overhead traffic signs on W. Wisconsin Avenue at Richmond Street.

A traffic patrolman said he could have made 150 arrests in one hour at the intersection Wednesday morning. Although no arrests were made, several warning citations were issued.

The lane directional signs, suspended from a steel pole over Wisconsin Avenue, were installed two weeks ago.

Motorists westbound on Wisconsin Avenue must use the lane nearest the center line if they want to turn south onto Richmond. Westbound motorists can travel straight ahead or turn north onto Richmond Street only from the right lane.

Police said motorists are using the center lane to travel west on Wisconsin, thus causing near collisions with westbound vehicles using the proper lane.

Police said they will begin issuing tickets to motorists who fail to heed the directional signs.

Kellett Faces Pressure Groups in Public Hearing

Says Organized Criticism Is Loud But Public's Voice Is Not Heard

GREEN BAY — Reorganization of state government will put Wisconsin in a position to cope with the future, William Kellett, chairman of a special commission which is studying consolidation of governmental units said here today.

The commission will present a draft of a plan to the State Legislature which would reduce Wisconsin's present 85 agencies to 13.

Kellett, the retired paper industry executive from Menasha, spoke at a press conference prior to the second of four public hearings in the state.

More than 250 attended the hearing which started this morning at the WBAY auditorium. The first hearing, held Wednesday at Eau Claire, was attended by about 450 persons.

Kellett said he thought, at the Eau Claire hearing, special interest groups were heard "loud and clear" but not the public. Veterans organizations, outdoorsmen and grain brokers opposed the Kellett Plan there.

Other hearings are scheduled for Milwaukee Friday and Madison Saturday.

Get Reactions

Kellett stressed that it is the committee's "sincere desire to get the feeling of the public and not just to hear from special interest groups." He was accompanied here by several committee members including State Sen. Robert Warren.

Green Bay, and committee secretary Glenn Pommerening, former assemblyman, Wauwatosa.

Kellett also stressed that the purpose of the plan is to remedy weaknesses in state government, which at least five governors since 1929 have been attempting to correct.

The only success during that time was the creation in 1960 of the Department of Administration by the then-governor Gaylord Nelson.

Kellett said his committee made no effort to put a price tag on the savings its plan will accomplish. But he said the plan will give better service and more efficiency in addition to dollar savings.

Changes Better

Kellett said opposition by veterans groups is understandable because there will be — if the plan is passed into law by the Legislature — some changes in the handling of their affairs. "But the changes are for the better," Kellett declared.

Kellett said, "It won't be an

Bloc of Aldermen Tries to Force Decision After Issue Had Been Previously Tabled

An attempt by a group of Appleton aldermen Wednesday night to ram through a cashier-type system rather than parking meters for the Soldiers Square ramp was blocked until at least Feb. 1.

Spearheading the unsuccessful attempt to get favorable action on a matter tabled at the last council meeting was Ald. Norman Beyer (20th).

The matter of cashier versus meters was brought up as the council neared the end of what had been a comparatively short business session.

However, within a matter of minutes the council was entangled in a parliamentary procedure and other red tape, plus several votes which culminated in an understanding that some final decision be reached in February.

Meters Recommended

The parking commission has recommended installation of meters in the 450-car capacity ramp when it is completed in April. While Aids. Beyer, Roy Pointer (14th) and Glenn Thompson (13th) led the drive for an immediate decision, Aids. John Ayers (12th) and Alvin E. Tews (5th) cautioned against "hasty action" and pointed out some major ramifications involved.

The ramp was designed for meters and a change now would result in closing one of the two exits, plus widening the express entrance-exit by at least 12 additional feet, cutting that much more from Soldiers Square.

Construction of the $750,000 four level ramp, bounded by Oneida, Lawrence and Appleton streets and Soldier's Square, is at a point where construction will be completed in about three months.

Studies and data obtained by the council would indicate that the cost of having a cashier system would be about equal that of meters.

The more expensive attendant parking (someone parks the motorist's car after entering the ramp) is not being considered.

The parking commission and ramp project have been targets of Beyer's criticism for months.

He originally claimed a cashier system would be the most economical and save the city a considerable amount of money annually. In recent weeks he has shifted his position, claiming the public is demanding something other than metered parking within the ramp.

Attempts Failed
His attempt to force a vote on a motion to have the council consider the cashier system never got off the ground when the council refused to suspend its rules to take a vote.

Beyer and Thompson contended.

Seniors Get Okay on Cars At Lawrence

Parking Rules Are Defined as School Breaks Tradition

Lawrence University seniors will be permitted to operate automobiles while in residence on the campus. Permission was voted recently by the faculty and approved by the board of trustees executive committee.

All campus vehicles must be registered in the dean's office. As of today, less than 30 sticker-permits had been issued to seniors.

In relaxing the traditional rule which prohibited automobile possession by any undergraduate resident, the problem of parking was specifically defined.

The revised motor vehicle rule states: "Lawrence University, in granting seniors the privilege of maintaining cars, does not obligate itself to provide on-campus parking. An Appleton ordinance prohibits parking on city streets between 2 and 5 a.m. In general, resident students have to provide their own off-street parking or use the Lawrence Bowl lot. Student parking will not be permitted in any of the faculty-staff or dormitory lots, on South Union St., in the 100 block of N. Park Ave., or in Brokaw Place."

Certain university lots may be used after the working day is over — from 5 p.m. to 7:30 a.m. Monday through Friday and on special weekend hours. The campus will be patrolled by a university watchman. Fines will be levied for illegal campus parking.

Students receiving financial aid will be required to petition the committee on financial aid for permission to operate a car. This petition will make his assistance program subject to review.

A senior who allows an underclassman to operate his car can be subject to disciplinary action "including forfeiture of his right to have a car for the balance of the senior year."

Officials, Contractors Discuss Inherent Details of Avenue Project

Thousands of details inherent with a construction project the size of Appleton's College Avenue program are being worked out by city utilities' and contracting officials.

Of major concern to the city's construction coordinating committee during a meeting this morning was the anticipated difficulty in locating underground service systems buried 60 or 70 years ago at a time when engineering records were incomplete or erroneous.

In August of 1963 a city policy was adopted and became a part of the department of public works specifications which said that utility firm's whose records are incomplete or in error will bear the expense of relocating service systems if they impede other construction.

Frank Keuler, public works director, said today, "This policy should be adhered to for this project."

The reciprocal agreement probably will be used more extensively for the College Avenue work than it ever had been used before, Keuler said. In effect, the city utilities will "pool" their records of underground systems installed along College Avenue.

The records will be used to inform construction crews of the location of pipes, mains, conduits and cables.

Incurred Expense

If the information given is incorrect or if there isn't information available, the company at fault would incur expenses of relocating the systems.

College Avenue is the oldest street in the city. During the time of its construction, there may have been built-in irregularities which might cause trouble for contractors.

The city council will be made aware of the expected use of the reciprocal agreement between public utilities, Keuler said.

Coordinating committee of meetings with merchants and property owners as well as weekly meetings between contractors to work out problems as they arise. A public hearing on the project is scheduled for Jan. 18.

Official Supervision
In an effort to speed the work, several utility firm officials indicated they would have advisers at the construction site at all times to assist crews encountering unexpected problems.

"There will be very little, if any, construction started before Feb. 2," Keuler said.

Russell Fulcer of the water department said his crews may not be able to work after next week. Frost has penetrated to a depth of three feet, he said, and their equipment will not be useful if the frost reaches a depth of four feet.

Water department crews are in the process of replacing galvanized water services with up-to-date copper services at the east end of the proposed construction area.

Vehicles Slide Into Chain Collisions on Ice-Covered U.S. 41

Seven Cars Involved in Three Accidents at Same Intersection

OSHKOSH — Car after car accident scene, tried to stop, slid on the glare ice that but couldn't due to the ice. covered U.S. 41 during the Mrs. Ostrowski told police Wednesday rush hour, and there were cars "all over the accident piled upon accident. road" ahead of her and that it

In two places, accidents caused by the ice caused other accidents as drivers tried to slow down and get out of the way. Seven cars were involved in three separate collisions at U.S. 41 and Cecil Street in the Town of Neenah just before 5 p.m.

Four cars crashed in two separate chain reaction accidents on U.S. 41 just north of County Trunk U about two miles southwest of Appleton. Only one minor injury resulted from the crashes, but another accident this morning injured three.

Daughter Hurt

The two-year-old daughter of Mrs. Kristin E. Ostrowski, 26, of 757 Racine St., Menasha, received eye injuries in a three-car accident that was part of the U.S. 41-Cecil Street mess.

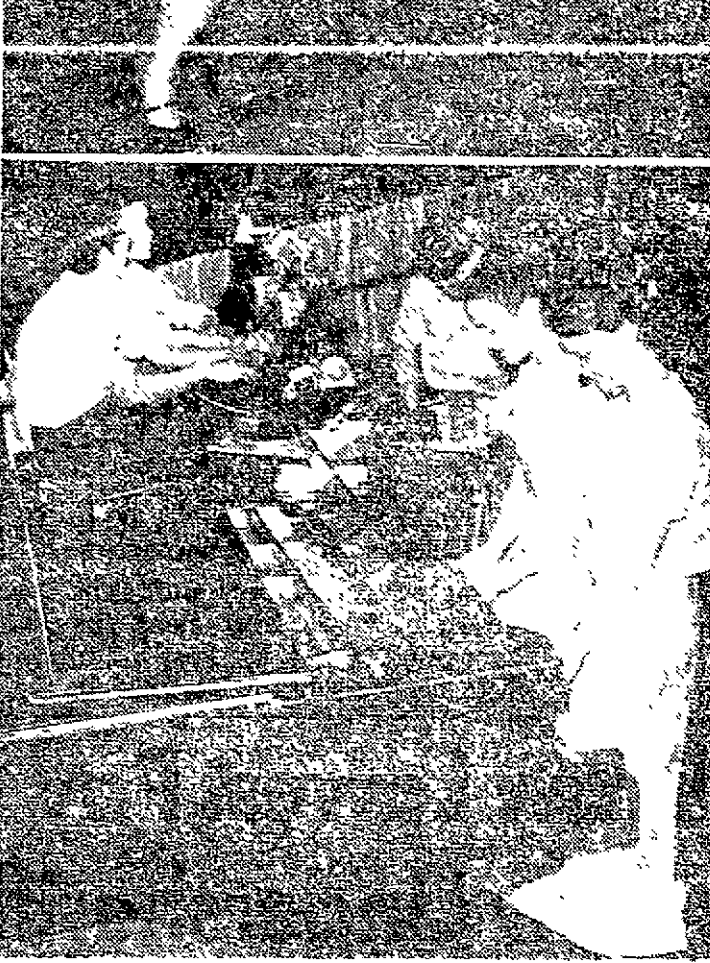

The pile-up started when June R. Olm, 43, of 501 E. Parkway St., Appleton, turned off Cecil Street onto U.S. 41 northbound. Her car slid back and forth as she accelerated on U.S. 41. Winnebago county police said, and a car driven north on the four-lane road by Mrs. Esther W. Phenicie, 52, De Pere, struck the Olm auto from the rear.

Mrs. Phenicie told police she tried to stop, but her car also started to slide on the ice. Police said the Phenicie auto swung completely around, struck the Olm auto and landed on the left shoulder headed south. The Olm auto came to rest on the right shoulder.

Second Crash

A second crash occurred as John I. Kobishaw, 42, Green Bay, drove north on U.S. 41, saw squad cars and the accident ahead of him and slowed to 10 or 15 m.p.h., police said. Anna C. Pepin, 64, of rural Waukesha, tried to slow down the car she was driving behind Pepin, but couldn't stop. The Pepin car skidded into the rear of the Kobishaw car and was a total wreck.

Next came the 3-car crash, driven by Michael J. Balke, Floyd A. Hammen, 35, of 719 Grand Ave., Little Chute, and Kenneth J. Anderson, 33, of 521 W. 10th St., Kaukauna, who were both driving cars north on U.S. 41, spotted the previous accidents and pulled off to the side of the road. Police said from the time the snow started, Mrs. Ostrowski was also driving falling about mid-day Wednesday north on U.S. 41, saw the day through this morning.

"Pages From a Note Book," is the theme of the first variety show which will be staged by the Thespian group of Appleton High School West, with the kick-off performances set for 8.15 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Barb Bradway and Kathy Murphy interpret "Maturity," upper left, while Gordon Case works on the costumes for another number in the background. Lois Poppe and Kris Shockley, upper right, practice on their "Soft Shoe" routine, while Jackie Jacobson and Marcia Mendels tune up their guitars for a lively folk tune. "Fire," bottom left. Rounding out the performance are Miss Poppe and Sue Klanderma on the piano, who took time out at Tuesday's rehearsal for an impromptu number while Dave Hackbert and John LaPin worked on the portable dimmer board. The show will be taken on the road for charity performances, which can be scheduled with Lee Schoeni, director. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Plan Charity Performances

High School Thespians to Travel

Teen-agers can do a lot for a community, and a group from Appleton High School-West (AHS-W) has set out to prove that premise.

The first traveling Thespian variety show of AHS-W has been formed by Lee Schoeni, head of the school's speech and drama department. The Thespians will give their time, talent and effort for future charity performances in this area.

There will be a charge at the University-Oshkosh. She will two kick-off performances at 8.15 p.m. Friday and Saturday at the high school.

"Pages in Our Note Book" is the theme of the show. Participants in the hour-long program include Jackie Jacobson and compose the set. Made of a wood frame, five feet wide and nine feet high, the frames can be folded for transporting.

Colorful stage costumes were designed and put together by Gordon Case, a member of the business department, with assistance from Mary Lisa Berryman, Peter Giovannini and Harold Carlson of the art department were in charge of set design and Mrs. Ellen Goolsbey was costume consultant.

Weekend charity performances by the troupe are now being scheduled by Schoeni. If any organization is interested in having the Thespian group perform, Schoeni may be contacted at the high school.

Health Program Under Study In Winnebago

OSHKOSH — The ramifications of a county health commission, now being formed in Outagamie County, will be studied by the Winnebago County Board's health committee with an eye toward possible adoption in Winnebago County.

A county health commission would replace the individual town health officers as the enforcement office for health laws in the county.

Supv. Laurel Heaney, Town of Neenah, chairman of the committee, suggested the legal requirements for setting up a health commission be investigated and that a member of the committee contact its Outagamie County counterpart to find out their procedures.

A temporary fee of $6 per visit was agreed upon by the committee for new county home nursing program which went into operation in December.

However, the fee will not be collected from persons eligible for medicare payments at the present time until the county program is certified by the state. Certification is expected to be received in the near future.

Rescue Squad Called On Two Missions

The Appleton Fire Department rescue squad was called twice Wednesday.

At 12:47 p.m., the squad went to 1506 N. Mason St., to assist Jon Krahlen, 59, who became ill and collapsed on the bathroom floor. Firemen administered oxygen and remained at the home until a doctor arrived.

At 1:20 p.m. the rescue squad went to the home of Charles Schiebler, 90, 1112 W. Spencer St. after a fuel oil delivery man found Schiebler lying on the bathroom floor. The elderly state Certification is expected to be received in the near future.

Says State Planner

Bottleneck on Planning Aids Could Break Soon

MADISON — The first break in the current bottleneck in Menasha's application for federal planning funds could come this month, a state Department of Resource Development official has suggested.

Alvin Karetzki, of the planning assistance staff, said the department expects to establish a priority rating system by month's end, providing a scale against which the Menasha application and others would be judged. This would be the first step in determining when the city could receive federal aid for its master planning effort, and how much money would be granted.

Hearing Over Utility Hookup Gets Underway

Permission Sought For Link Between Menasha, Kaukauna

APPLETON — The groundwork for Menasha and Kaukauna Electric Utilities' request for permission to interconnect was laid here this morning under the scrutiny of several parties making appearances at the opening of a hearing being conducted by the Public Service Commission (PSC).

Melvin M. Crowley, attorney for the two utilities, introduced evidence on the background of the application for PSC approval on charges of stealing eight old al of the hookup and an attorney for Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. directed most of the questions in cross-examination.

The interconnection has been proposed as a means of meeting biggest art theft. All eight paint-inadequacies in the Kaukauna's — three Rembrandts, three generating plant's capacity, by Rubens, one Elsheimer and providing backup sources of one Gerard Dou—were recovered for both utilities and returned to the gallery Wednesday night. They were in good condition.

Briton Charged With Art Thefts

LONDON (AP)—Michael Hall, 32, an unemployed London bachelor, was arraigned today the application for PSC approval on charges of stealing eight old al of the hookup and an attorney for Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. directed most of the questions in cross-examination.

Police indicated they are looking for two other men and a woman as suspects in history's biggest art theft. All eight paint-inadequacies in the Kaukauna's — three Rembrandts, three generating plant's capacity, by Rubens, one Elsheimer and providing backup sources of one Gerard Dou—were recovered for both utilities and returned to the gallery Wednesday night. # Conspiracy Against All U.S. Negroes Charged by Powell

Harlem Congressman Vows Fight To Keep Education Chairmanship

By JOHN BECKLER

[sire to politically castrate one of America's most powerful Negro politicians of his power"]

WASHINGTON AP — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell charges the attempt to remove him as chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee is a political conspiracy aimed at U.S. Negroes.

From his island retreat in the Bahamas, the Harlem Democrat issued a statement Wednesday night blistering his attackers and promising an all-out fight to retain his chairmanship.

"A political conspiracy of enormous dimensions has not only been mounted against Adam Clayton Powell, but against black political leadership, black people and black progress," he said.

Powell is due to return to the capital this weekend. His fate could be largely sealed Monday when the Democratic caucus meets a day in advance of the opening of the 90th Congress.

Caucus Question
Although Powell also faces a challenge to his being seated on Jan. 10, the question of his chairmanship should be settled in the Democratic caucus. Several members already have declared their intention to vote to block Powell's re-election as chairman, including one of Powell's New York colleagues, Democratic Rep. Jonathan B. Bingham.

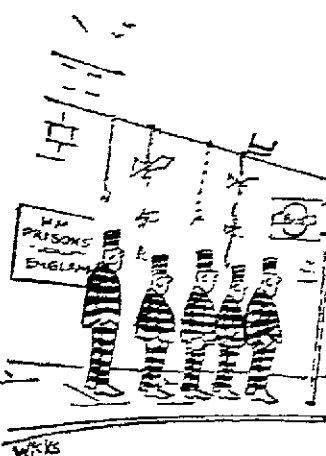

Bingham said, however, he is not prepared to vote to bar Powell from his House seat. He attacked the House seniority system under which he said two Mississippi Democrats, Reps. William M. Colmer and John Bell Williams, would attain important committee chairmanships this session.

In his four-page statement, Powell ignored the seating challenge and called the fight over the chairmanship "the only issue in this struggle."

Chief Weapon
As he has in dealing with previous attacks on him, Powell used the fact of his being a Negro as a chief weapon against his critics.

"To what extent," he asked, "are they motivated by the desire to remove a Negro from the House?"

Drunken Driving in Wisconsin

'We Can't Go on Like This'

By FRED SNYDER

Associated Press Writer

MADISON (AP)—Efforts to nail Wisconsin's drunken driver have been so futile that there's talk of reducing the penalties.

"I'm not advocating such a step, mind you, but I wonder if it shouldn't be explored," says Dan Schutz, Wisconsin's safety director.

Schutz, a veteran of 30 years in law enforcement work, lives with the files which show fewer intoxicated drivers being convicted, more suspected tipsy drivers refusing to take alcohol tests, more charges reduced, a mounting death toll stemming from drinking, more accidents by teen-aged drinkers.

He looks back at frustrated efforts to raise the beer drinking age, at failures to pass an implied consent law to require alcohol breath tests, at lost efforts to require auto safety inspections, at flops in making driver training mandatory.

Easier Penalties

Judges seem reluctant at times to impose the personal hardships of losing the license to drive to work, of being deprived of man's means of a mobility necessary in this modern era.

District attorneys are willing to reduce the charges because they are aware drunken driving convictions are rare.

The motorist who drinks, meanwhile, drives on.

The problem, says Arvid Sather, legal aide to the governor, is in convincing the public it's wrong to drink and drive.

Missile Over Cuba

Cannon Fire Couldn't Stop Runaway Mace

WASHINGTON (AP)—A runaway unarmed U.S. missile apparently zoomed over Cuba Wednesday after cannon fire and missiles from a pursuing U.S. jet plane and destruction signals from the ground failed to bring it down, says the Pentagon.

The 650-mile-an-hour Mac missile apparently dropped into the Caribbean about 100 miles south of the southwest coast of Cuba. Air Force calculators reported.

The missile, modified into a target drone, was routinely launched from Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., Wednesday morning and headed over the Gulf of Mexico for a test chase by F4 Phantom jets.

But it made a wrong turn and took off at 25,000 feet altitude toward Cuba.

An F4 — which can fly 1,600 miles an hour — caught up with the Mace about 100 miles at sea. Officials at Eglin AFB tried to trigger the missile's own explosive destruction mechanism.

The F4 pilot hit the missile with cannon fire.

He fired two air-to-air missiles of a type now under development.

Nothing stopped the Mace. The F4 pilot gave up and came home.

The Pentagon calculated the expected impact time and announced the incident at precisely that minute — evidently to prevent Communist Cuba from saying anything first.

The government also asked the Swiss Embassy in Havana to tell Cuba what happened.

So far, Cuba has not commented publicly.

Money Sought For Rural Fairs

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Spokesmen for county and district fairs have voted to seek stronger representation on the State Exposition Board in hope of getting greater financial support from the state for rural fairs.

The Wisconsin Association of Fairs opened a three-day conference today to ask the Legislature to task the Legislature to add two association members to the exposition body. The association represents 77 county and district fairs.

W. D. Rogan of Waukesha, association president, said directors feel the exposition board needs to give more energy to promoting county fairs.

Plans Set Aside on State Fair Project

MILWAUKEE (AP)— Suggestions for expanding the state fairs for grounds in suburban West Allis were set aside again Wednesday by the State Exposition Board.

The project would involve acquisition of residential areas. Plans call for acquisition of 80 acres.

force, Rolando Masferrer, says. Immigration Violation. But Masferrer still faced charges of violating immigration orders not to leave New York City, where he lives. As a U.S. marshal took him to Miami, members of his invasion army shouted insults and kicked the car.

The former Cuban senator, called "The Tiger" because under overthrown President Fulgencia Batista he had a private army called "The Tigers," said in an interview: "We would welcome the help of the United States, which is the policeman of the hemisphere. The United States sends men — Cubans as well as Americans — to Vietnam, 10,000 miles away. They shouldn't stop us from fighting communism 90 miles away."

Masferrer, 48, said his invasion force numbered 350. Seventy-nine persons were arrested. Masferrer said an invasion boat carrying 50 men got away. He added "I don't know what happened to it. I've been out of touch with things — in jail."

His invasion battalion, assembled, was big enough to topple Haitian President Francois Duvalier and then, with the help of the Haitian army, Fidel Castro.

Coroner Critical of Some Area Hospitals

Outagamie Official Charges Laxness in Notification on Reportable Deaths

Outagamie County Coroner deaths and not necessarily in reportable deaths," Kemps said. He cited three cases where reportable deaths were not reported. He explained that a hospital failed to report a traffic fatality and a similar death went unreported until the following day. The reported death of an Appleton woman two days after she was found dead in her home made it impossible to run laboratory tests, Kemps said. He pointed out that Wisconsin Statutes provide that deaths must be reported to the coroner immediately. He said that failure by hospitals to report the deaths hampers law enforcement and could result in financial loss (involving insurance) and additional needless suffering for the immediate families. Lowest since '62 Outagamie County traffic fatalities were the lowest since 1962, Kemps said. The 1966 toll was 23, compared with a record 27 last year, 26 in 1964, 24 in 1963 and 22 in 1962. Drinking drivers accounted for 30.7 per cent of the fatalities, as compared with 55.3 per cent last year. Kemps said there was a drop in the number of accidents, involving multiple fatalities, from five in 1965 to two in 1966, and 1966 suicides were half of the 14 total in 1965. Kemps conducted three coroner's inquests last year, compared with six in 1965. Increases were reported in the numbers of homicides and deaths from natural causes. Two murders were investigated last year. The last previous murder was in 1963. Deaths from natural causes totaled 87 last year, eight more than in 1965. Sister Veronita presently is concentrating on elementary pupils, in both public and parochial schools, but she is also available to high school students. Her headquarters is St. Joseph's School, Keshena. Training Received The reading expert took her training at Fontbonne College, Gamesville, Fla., at St. Louis University and at Oklahoma State University. She worked in three six-week summer sessions in Chicago under a special remedial reading program, and taught in Ashland, Wis., schools for one year. More than 30 students have been attending the training sessions, most of which have been at Lawrence. They hope to begin the tutoring program early this year. Special adviser to the group is Carl T. Fled Office
The Oregon native, who was hired as a copy reader and general assignment reporter at The Post-Crescent on Dec. 19, attempted to flee from two Outagamie County sheriff's investigators when they came to the newspaper office Wednesday noon to take him into custody for Minnesota authorities. The pickup order from Minnesota stated that Capener was sought as a parole absconder. He reportedly left the state in which he was under supervision, without reporting to his supervisor.

Capener shoved an investigator and fled through the composing room at the Post-Crescent. He halted in the company parking lot after an investigator fired a warning shot. It was learned that Capener worked on a newspaper in Springfield, Minn., before coming to Appleton last month. Capener, when asked by County Judge Gustave J. Keller this morning why he fled from investigators Wednesday, replied, "After you've done time in prison, it becomes a desperate situation."

Alvin Fulcer's Report
Village President Lauds Kimberly's '66 Growth

KAUKAUNA — "Kimberly is on the move. Let's do everything we can to keep it moving," said Alvin Fulcer, village president. Tuesday night as he spoke to trustees on the state of the village. "In my opinion 1966 was an outstanding year and a remarkable job was done by all concerned. Book-wise we are starting the new year on a cash basis. I am sure we can repeat these words going into 1967. I think you will agree that the 1967 budget provides adequately for needs," he continued. Areas pointing to the movement of the village mentioned by the president include, major improvements to equipment at Kimberly-Clark resulting in considerable upgrading of products to benefit all, the new Mount Hope Machinery industry, Red Owl providing the village with another modern super market, expansion and improvement of Eiting's Super Market, start of development on a shopping center with more development in 1967 and the purchase by the village of a 45-acre industrial park site. "As I have often said before, the time to start controlling the new budget is Jan. 1. You people have demonstrated your willingness and ability to do it that way. I want to sincerely say thanks to all departments and employees involved. All did an outstanding job in 1966," Fulcer said. Fulcer mentioned the recent tragedy which orphaned eight children in the community, commended the police department for their work in handling the situation and told trustees, everything possible would be done to relieve the problems facing the children.

MacDonald had agreed to halt debating with the understanding that a suggestion by Tews and Ayers that the public safety committee and parking commission hold a joint meeting and come up with a report by Feb. 1. "This council is in no position to make a snap decision," Ayers, public safety committee chairman, had told his colleagues, emphasizing the traffic pattern and other potential problems were being lost in the verbal shuffle. "Even if we hire a cashier for the ramp, it will cost about the same as having meters," Ayers declared. "And we are still going to require a parking meter staff for the other metered facilities." Ayers warned that eliminating one of the exits and pushing all the traffic onto Oneida Street might cause a serious traffic problem for the downtown area. He also had reservations about adding another 12 feet to the ramp which would severely limit the area with which to eventually have a pedestrian mall as per the central business district plan. But Pointer said meters could always be installed if the other First Presbyterian Church, the system did not work out. He said the city should be willing to spend $8,000 to find out.

$650 Collected To Aid Orphaned DeHart Children
KIMBERLY — More than $650 have been contributed by 56 donors to a fund for eight DeHart orphans in Kimberly. The children range in age from 7 through 18. The funds are being collected at Kimberly State Bank after Village President Alvin Fulcer authorized an assistance fund. Approximately $220 was collected by five youngsters who went from door to door seeking donations. Fulcer today said a considerable amount of clothing has been turned in to the Kimberly police chief. The children are reportedly receiving food from anonymous donors as well. The DeHart children are living at 1014 E. Kimberly Ave with their grandparents. Fulcer said he will sign an authorization today giving the Rev. John Bowe, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, the right to use the money in caring for the children.

Deny Taking Vote on High Cliff Zone Petition
Commission Head Says Motel-Supper Club Plan Won Only Informal Approval

John Stumpf, Sherwood, chairman of the Calumet County Park and Zoning Commission, Thursday denied that the zoning petition for a luxury motel-supper club near High Cliff State Park was given formal approval at an executive (closed door) session. "In discussion after the hearing Tuesday night at Chilton we (the commission) unanimously agreed that the petition would be approved, but no formal vote was taken," Stumpf told The Post-Crescent today. Separate Hearing Developers backing the proposed $5 million-plus project on land owned by Francis Schneider, route 1, Menasha, had petitioned the park commission to rezone 26 acres of the area from agricultural to commercial to clear the way for the proposed supper club-motel. The petition was one of three on the agenda for the commission session. After the three separate hearings, one of which involved considerable controversy, the commissioners announced today after a long illness.

Kimberly Annexes 60 Acres of Land

Two Parcels in Town of Buchanan Owned by Village, School District

KIMBERLY — The village board Tuesday adopted two ordinances which increased the area of the community by 60 acres, both annexations from the Town of Buchanan.

A 45-acre tract of land, purchased by the village in 1966 for use as an industrial park, was annexed, as was 15 acres of land owned by the school district south of the senior high school. The school property was annexed to give village rights to the extension of John Street.

The 45-acre industrial park site is south of the Chicago and North Western Railway tracks near the western end of the village. Development along the tracks has been industrial.

The board approved purchase of a snow plow from Bark River Culvert Co. at a price of $1,195, including trade-in. A contract for Dairy and Dairy farm inspections was renewed with Darlab Service, Manitowish, for $1,660 per year.

Little Chute Employees Get New Wage Pact

4 Per Cent Hike Effective Jan. 1; Fringe Benefits Up

LITTLE CHUTE — The village board Tuesday night approved new wage scales and contract terms for 1966. All salaried and hourly employees will receive a 5 per cent wage hike effective Jan. 1.

The board also agreed to pay all premiums on health and accident insurance. Formerly employees paid 50 per cent of the premium.

Under the new vacation schedule one week will be permitted after one year of work, two weeks after two years and one day extra for each day after 10 years up to a maximum of four weeks. Formerly an employee had to work five years before receiving two weeks vacation.

Street department employees previously worked a 40-hour and 45-hour week at straight time. Under the new contract they will continue to work the same hours but be compensated at time and one-half for anything over 40 hours a week or over eight hours per day.

Work Applications

Five applications were received for employment with the village crew. The street committee was authorized to screen applicants and return recommendations to the board.

The board will participate in the Jan. 11 meeting at the county courthouse to discuss centralized purchasing programs for county and municipalities.

Final payment of $15,318 for improvements on Depot Street was approved for the J. N. Daul Construction Co. Murphy Construction Co. will receive final payment of $16,037.

Approval was made to transfer $13,398 from the general fund to the water department for hydrant rental and transfer of $26,000 from the general fund to the street improvement fund. This represents a $19,000 budget item and $7,000 surplus from last year. A donation of $50 was made to the Humane Society for assistance with stray animals caught in the village and a $20 donation was approved for a local girl who feeds and cares for dogs kept in the local pound for short periods of time.

Bull Batters Farmer From Black Creek

Bernard DeBruin, 41, Seriously Injured Before Escaping

BLACK CREEK — Bernard DeBruin, 41, route 2, is in St. Elizabeth Hospital awaiting surgery on a badly smashed shoulder suffered when he was battered by a bull on his farm about 1 p.m. Wednesday.

DeBruin said he was in the bull's pen and was about to tie the animal with a chain when it swung its head knocking him to the floor. While he lay dazed, the bull turned on him and butted him around the pen until one thrust hoisted the injured farmer to his feet. He bolted from the pen, he said, and made his way to the house.

Mrs. DeBruin helped him to the family car and took him to a local doctor's office.

Half-Dollars

Out of Hoards

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The half-dollar is circulating again, says the director of the U.S. Mint, Miss Eva Adams. Miss Adams said speculative hoarding of half-dollars, as well as new pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters, has subsided. She said the mint would produce 200 million half-dollars this year.

provided solvency that other studios would envy. But under Zanuck's presidency, 20th Century-Fox produced a string of winning films and the most successful television operation in Hollywood, including such a series as "Peyton Place" and "Batman."

Dates From 1957 The fall and rise of Darryl Francis Zanuck dates from 1957, when he shocked the film world by stepping down as production chief of 20th Century-Fox. Movie moguls relinquish power only by dying or being deposed. No one could figure why Zanuck would voluntarily abandon control of the domain he had ruled imperiously for the 20 years after he had merged his tiny 20th Century Co. with the giant, ailing Fox. A wiry, nervous man with a bushy mustache, he established his foot-hold in the polo mallets as trade-marks on the Hollywood scene.

"Darryl enjoyed power as much as any studio boss," says an intimate. "But he was 55 and he felt his life ebbing away. His marriage had gone sour, and he wanted the excitement of living in Europe. He also figured he could do a better job of making two or three hand-crafted films a year instead of supervising 40."

That proved to be an error. Zanuck's independent films, some starring then girl friend, Juliette Greco, were failures. Zanuck realized his error and began work on "The Longest Day," a panorama of D-Day at Normandy.

Down, Down, Down The tidal wave of red ink began in 1961: a deficit of $22,532,084. In 1962: $39,796,094. In one year the company's stock plummeted from 55 to 15 points. Darryl Zanuck was profoundly affected; he and his family owned more than 100,000 shares, more than any other stockholder.

Board members began bringing pressure for sweeping economies. One target was a film based on the best-seller about a sex survey, "The Chapman Report," to be produced in Hollywood for the Zanuck company by Richard Zanuck, Darryl's son. Ten days before the start of filming, a message was sent by a board member to the elder Zanuck: "We are canceling 'The Chapman Report.' If you want to sue, sue. But the production is canceled."

Darryl Zanuck considered this unnecessarily abrupt for a man who had devoted two decades of his life to building a bankrupt company into an enterprise worth $240 million. He began to think about returning to leadership. "The Sound of Music" — could have ship-

The War That Won't Go Away

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7:30 (Channels 4-5) — Ted Yates has done an excellent reporting job in "Laos: The Forgotten War," the second of a three-part series The Battle For Asia. Viewers will have a very clear picture of this "neutral" country fighting a war that would be comic if it were not so tragic. In one of the most telling sequences, scenes of Yates on a bombing mission along the Ho Chi Minh Trail are juxtaposed with an interview with Girdha Lal Puri, the Indian Chairman of the International Control Commission whose job it is to maintain Laos' "neutrality." You'll also see a tragic shot of youngsters fighting pigs for a few grains of rice (America has regular rice drops to tribesmen fighting Communists) and Yates being threatened by Communist guns outside their headquarters in Vientiane.

6:30-7 (Channels 11-6-9) — Holy Halloween, but Batman and Robin are found as Caped Skeletons in the High Voltage X-ray Cabinet in which the Mad Hatter (David Wayne) has trapped our Dynamic Duo. The story is spread by a cleaning woman, who finds the bones, and soon people are flying to Gotham City from ranches in Texas and castles in England to pay their respects to the departed. Of course, they are not departed, and foil the Mad Hatter in his scheme to gain a priceless ruby in a statue.

7-7:30 (Channels 11-6-9) — Far East meets West with some amusing results on F Troop. Miko Mayama plays a geisha who comes to Fort Courage to escape from an "honorable bad man" who is chasing her: a Samurai warrior (Mako) whose job it is to take her back to Japan and an arranged wedding. Naturally the girl starts tending Capt. Parmenter (Ken Berry), while O'Rourke and Jack Jones singing "Treat Me Rough," while some girls in a gym do just that, and Kaye Stevens in a Western setting singing a medley while a big gunfight goes on. Florence Henderson is pretty and charming, singing "Hi-Lili, Hi-Lo" and Bob Melvin is funny talking about a young man at a dance.

9-10 (Channels 11-6-9) — Football fans will be informed and entertained by Pro Football's Shotgun Marriage: Sonny, Money and Merger, a title that on a top secret project, and he must make a fool of himself in order to protect the project.

7:30-8:30 (Channels 4-5) — Leonard Nimoy fans will have a fine time watching Star Trek since he, as Mr. Spock, gets to bleed green blood, and take command of a crashed shuttlecraft, and make logical decisions, and alienate the crew, and nearly get them killed, and finally, make a totally illogical decision, which he can even rationalize.

8-10 (Channels 2-7-12) — "Summer and Smoke" is another of those Tennessee Williams' tales of sacred vs. profane love, but its presentation on The Thursday Night Movie is well worth watching for Geraldine Page's sensitive performance as a repressed female who wants a spiritual attachment to Laurence Harvey, who in turn, is about to have none of that.

9-10 (Channels 4-5) — Dom De both.

Husband, TV Offered After Bowl Weekend

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Mrs. J. G. T. Sneyd ran a newspaper advertisement recently which read: "Husband and TV set. Cheap for quick sale." She said she had become fed up with both after the rash of television football games at the start of the year. "I'm going to hold out for the highest bidder," she said. "So far, the highest offer is $200 for both."

Rise, Fall, Comeback of Darryl Zanuck Told

'Washed Up,' Said Scoffers, Then Earlier Boy Wonder Saved Fox From Bankruptcy

EDITOR'S NOTE: Five years ago Darryl F. Zanuck, was producing movies as an independent in Europe, and 20th Century-Fox, the company he had fashioned into a giant, was tottering. Today Zanuck is the No. 1 man at Fox, and Fox is the biggest grossing studio. How Zanuck fought his way back to control and led Fox to unparalleled prosperity is explored in the following article, the first of five columns.

AP Movie-Television Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The jackals of Hollywood, ever ready to pounce upon a fall from grace, were saying in 1962 that Darryl F. Zanuck was washed up.

The onetime boy wonder from Wahoo, Neb., they said, was more interested in wooing young European actresses and waging fortunes at chemin de fer than he was in making movies.

"Zanuck is finished," said executives and agents who had sought his favor when he was one of the half-dozen most powerful men in the film industry. They pointed out that Zanuck's five films as an independent producer had run a deficit of $4 million.

The critics reckoned without the driving force that had elevated Zanuck from a script writer for Rin-Tin-Tin to studio boss. His energies revived, he abandoned independent production, returned to 20th Century-Fox, and in four years drove it from the edge of bankruptcy to the top-grossing film company in the world. One movie alone — "The Sound of Music" — could have ship-

Xavier Faces Marshfield '5' Friday Night

Final Non-Loop
Contest Scheduled
At Hawk Court

Friday night, Xavier High School will use its final "no count" game of the 1966-67 season to wear off any rust that might have accumulated on its basketball machine during a 3-week respite.

After Friday night's home non-conference game against Marshfield, Columbus, the Hawks play 10 straight Fox Valley Catholic Conference foes and the league is well stocked with formidable teams this season — then swing into tournament play.

In their rematch with Columbus, the Hawks will try to round out a perfect non-loop record. In addition to beating the Marshfield team (77-54), Xavier has stopped Wisconsin Rapids Assumption, Francis Jordan, Fox Valley Lutheran and Notre Dame.

The Hawks are 8-1, over-all, with their only loss coming at Marinette Central (71-69). Xavier bounced back from the defeat with a 64-54 win over Pennings — and has been idle since that Dec. 16 contest.

Xavier's Pat Fitzgerald pumped in 30 points against Columbus at Marshfield in November, and Gene Jack added 19. They are expected to start Friday night, along with Tom Heinritz, Dan Hardy and Terry Graff.

Marshfield had three double-figure scorers against Xavier. Putnam tallied 18 points, while Bill Rhyner had 15 and Bob Stauber 11.

Jerry Sloan, of Bulls, Named to West NBA Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Bridges, St. Louis forward, and Jerry Sloan, Chicago guard, were named to the West National Basketball Association all-star team today by the coaches of the division.

Previously eight players from the West had been picked by sports writers and broadcasters.

The 17th annual East-West game will be played in San Francisco next Tuesday. The game will be telecast nationally, starting at 11 p.m. EST.

Bridges, a five-year veteran, has an 18.5 scoring average this season. Sloan, a second-year player from Evansville, Ind., has averaged 17.4.

Other players on the West squad are forwards Rick Barry of San Francisco, Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles and Dave DeBusschere of Detroit; centers Nate Thurmond of San Francisco and Darrall Imhoff of Los Angeles; guards Jerry West of Los Angeles, Guy Rodgers of Chicago and Len Wilkins of St. Louis.

American League Pioneers

Chiefs, Pilgrims Have Lot in Common

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP) — What do the Kansas City Chiefs have in common with the Boston Pilgrims? A place in history, that's what.

The Chiefs will be doing Jan. 15 in Los Angeles what the Pilgrims did Oct. 1, 1903 in Boston. They will be carrying the hopes of an upstart American League against the vaunted power of a well-established National League.

The Pilgrims were a baseball team, later the Red Sox, and they played the Pittsburgh Pirates in the first World Series. The Chiefs play football and they will be going against the Green Bay Packers in the first Super Bowl.

opposition Friday night, their four remaining challengers will be meeting head-on in a pair of survival battles.

Co-third place Appleton (4-2) invades Sheboygan to encounter North (3-3). Fond du Lac (4-2) and Oshkosh, who share the third spot with AHS, collide on the Indians' court. These are the only teams in the 10-member circuit retaining any practical hopes of overtaking West and Manitowoc in the run for the title.

Unbeaten GBW (6-0) plays host to once-victorious Green Bay Preble and will be heavily favored to chalk up its 25th straight league win in a 2-year season span. The Wildcats have had several close calls this season but none closer than last Friday, when they overcame an 11-point deficit to edge Fond du Lac, 60-58.

Manitowoc (5-1), which has lost only to West, plays host to Green Bay Southwest, whose only success to date was a win over Fondy.

Averaging 67.2 North's Raiders, who have been better than their .500 record indicates, are one of the most dangerous teams in the circuit. The veteran-packed, Bill Richards-coached unit is the most prolific scoring team in the conference — averaging 67.2 points per game.

Of North's three losses, two have come in overtime struggles. The Raiders bowed, 57-56, in Oshkosh and 70-68 to Fond du Lac. The only decisive Raider defeat was in a 75-62 meeting with Manitowoc.

The Terrors, whose only two league losses were also narrow (two and three points) will rely on their usually-tough defense to break up the continuity of the North attack.

Dick Emanuel-coached AHS has permitted an average of only 47.5 points per FRVC start — easily the best mark in the

Jack Patera Resigns as Rams' Coach

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jack Patera, former defensive line coach of the Los Angeles Rams, is looking for a job with more responsibility.

Patera, who resigned Wednesday, said: "I'm looking for a position where I'll be a more effective coach. I want something with more responsibility. I would like to be a defensive coach."

The 34-year-old former star with Oregon and three National Football League teams was the only Ram assistant coach retained when George Allen replaced Harland Svare as head coach before the 1966 season.

Patera said that Allen, former defensive coach with the Chicago Bears, directed the Rams' defense, and a team source said Patera did not have the authority given by Svare.

Allen said the parting was "amiable on both sides, and I wish Jack well in the future."

Pack Slates Light Workouts Before Leaving Sunday

GREEN BAY (AP) — The Green Bay Packers scheduled light workouts today and Friday after announcing plans to leave Sunday for Santa Barbara, Calif., to prepare for the Jan. 15 Super Bowl game.

Packers officials said the team would stay in Santa Barbara until Jan. 13 before moving to Los Angeles for a workout at the Coliseum where the National Football League champions meet the Kansas City Chiefs, the American Football League titlists.

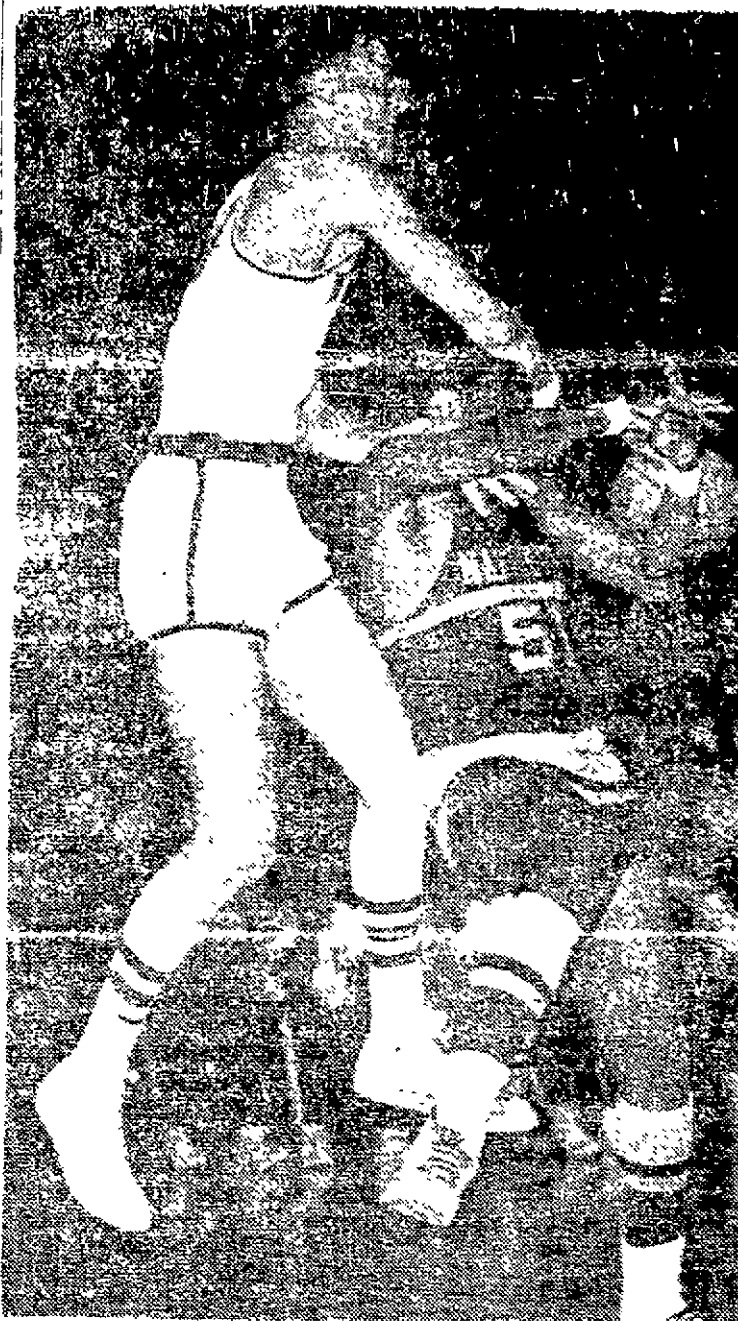

Chance for Proof
The meeting with the Pirates Bowl could become the Super was the American League's Bomb and the prestige of the chance to prove to fans that its American Football League could brand of baseball was every bit durable to disappearing, as good as that played in the National League.

National League owners had bunched in the opener. They resisted the idea. They were miffed four errors and managed confident they could outlast the just six hits off the Pirates' brash newcomers, who had or Deacon Philipe before subsidized in 1901.

The same attitudes were evident in the National Football League before a talent war and Dinneen three-hitter and went under pressure from the public forced on to a major upset, winning the Super Bowl and an eventual series five games to three.

Marquette Topples Wisconsin, 66-60

11-Point Spurt at Start of 2nd
Half Boosts Warriors to Victory

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer
MADISON (AP)—Mature Marquette, picking the pace to match the moment, outlasted and outwaited Wisconsin for a 66-60 basketball conquest Wednesday night.

The Warriors ripped off 11 straight points early in the second half against jittery, sophomore-spotted Wisconsin, then played a preservation game the rest of the way as Bob Wolf kept the Badgers at bay by scoring 22 points.

Marquette, normally known for a rough-rider, run-and-shoot style of basketball, took only 32 shots from the field, but sank 24 of them in a carefully controlled attack.

Bartholomay In Apology To Mathews

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Atlanta Braves apologized Wednesday to third baseman Eddie Mathews for the "mixup" over how he learned of his being traded to the Houston Astros.

Mathews, captain of the team and senior member, learned of the trade from an Atlanta newspaperman before being notified by the club.

William C. Bartholomay, Braves chairman, wrote the letter of apology to Mathews, but the text was not made public.

In a statement, however, Bartholomay said:

"Mathews is one of the greatest players ever to wear a Green Bay Packers scheduled Brave uniform and I sincerely regret that he did not receive notification of the trade from leave Sunday for Santa Barbara, Calif., to prepare for the Jan. 15 Super Bowl game.

Packers officials said the team would stay in Santa Barbara until Jan. 13 before moving to Los Angeles for a workout at the Coliseum where the National Football League champions meet the Kansas City Chiefs, the American Football League titlists.

Good Finish

The Pilgrims were a sloppy team, later the Red Sox, and they played the Pittsburgh Pirates in the first World Series. The Chiefs play football and they will be going against the Green Bay Packers in the first Super Bowl.

Football is not baseball and 1967 is not 1903. The Pilgrims, for example, had to settle for $1.182 as the individual purse for progress against the Pirates. Each winning player will get $15,000 in the Super Bowl.

But they bounced back to take part in the National Football League before a talent war and Dinneen three-hitter and went under pressure from the public forced on to a major upset, winning the Super Bowl and an eventual series five games to three.

Lawrence Opens MC Play With Two Home Contests

St. Olaf,
Carleton
To be Foes

Sporting a 3-1 record and the consolation title of its own holiday tournament, the Lawrence University basketball team embarks on its Midwest Conference fortunes with a pair of home games this weekend.

Friday night St. Olaf College will invade Alexander Gymnasium and on Saturday afternoon the Vikes will entertain defending conference champion Carleton College.

The 3-1 record in non-conference games is one of the best starts of recent years for the Vikes of Coach Clyde Rusk. Lawrence downed Milton College, 75-72; beat Carroll College, 91-81, and then lost its first holiday tournament encounter to North Park College of Illinois, 84-69, before coming back to take the consolation title by downing Carthage College, 90-88.

First Half Deficit
The victory over Carthage was particularly satisfying to Coach Rusk as he saw his cagers come back from a 20-point first half deficit to rally for the victory. Lawrence hit a hot streak of 16 straight points to overcome the Redmen.

In St. Olaf and Carleton, the Vikes will be meeting a pair of tough conference foes. The Oles finished in a 3-way tie for fourth place last season and have six lettermen returning. Carleton will be out to defend its title with five lettermen for a solid nucleus on a team which had a 15-3 loop record and overall 17-5 mark last season.

Heading the list of lettermen for St. Olaf, the Vikes' Friday night foe, will be Charlie Grover who scored 330 points last season and had a 15.0 average per tilt. In addition the Oles have Paul Graber who counted 192 markers and Dave Zahn who had 161.

Knox will feature excellent team speed and overall balance in its bid to move high into the first division. Head coach Harley Knosher's squad is Capt. Paul Madsen, a forward who's 15-point average last year ranked him ninth among the league's scorers. Knox, which also has two other starters, forward Jerry Spolar and center Tom Collins, will be counting on some untested juniors and soph.

Knox is the only team with a

3-Way Race For Lawrence Scoring Lead

A tight 3-way race has developed for the overall scoring lead on the Lawrence University basketball team which gets its first taste of Midwest Conference competition this weekend.

Friday night St. Olaf College will invade the Lawrence gymnasium and on Saturday afternoon defending conference champion Carleton will be at Lawrence.

In four non-conference games to date, senior and team captain Dick Schultz of Milwaukee has taken over the scoring lead with 68 points on 26 field goals and 16 free throws. This gives Schultz a 17.0 average per tilt.

Not far behind Schultz is junior Steve Simon with 66 markers on 26 field goals and 14 free throws and another junior, Brian Boek, is close on the heels of both Schultz and Simon with 61 markers.

Mike Andrews, Kaukauna sophomore, has moved into fourth place in scoring with 43 points, 39 of which he has scored in the last three games. Another sophomore, Bob Townsend, rounds out the top five with 42 markers.

Both Lawrence and its foes are averaging 81 points per game through the first four contests and Lawrence has a 3-1 record moving into conference

Any hopes which Fox Valley Lutheran might have remaining in quest of the Mid-West Prep Conference championship go on the line this Friday night when the Foxes take on tough Milwaukee Lutheran on the Red Knights' home hardwood.

Coach Gerhard Kaniess' pack currently stands 1-2 in the league, and another loss could spell doom to the Foxes' chances FVL will have the advantage of playing one game since the long holiday layoff, having struggled to a 61-49 victory over Freedom Tuesday night. The Milwaukee club, on the other hand, has been idle since Dec. 23 when it absorbed a 64-58 licking at the hands of Milwaukee Pius.

Both squads scored victories in their last conference engagements, FVL nipping Concordia, 64-60, and Milwaukee Lutheran edging rival Wisconsin Lutheran, 72-67, in the first showdown of the year.

Revenge Motive
But besides facing a team that will be trying to maintain the top spot in the league, the Foxes must battle another strong Milwaukee motivation — revenge. FVL tipped the Knights twice a year ago, both by slim margins of 50-44 and 56-54. Coach Ron Pinnat's five will undoubtedly be out to start squaring things.

The Knights are led by Lynn Martin and Tom Engel, a nifty backcourt combination. Each had 20 points in the game against Pius, and Engel ranks third in conference scoring with a 19.3 average. Good height and rebounding ability are shown by the other three regulars, Rhett Spees, Roger Klein, and Jim Neitzel, all of whom go 6-3.

Dave Tiedt, senior Foxes forward, remained in second place in conference scoring with 78 points, an even 26-point average. Tom Brenn of Wisconsin Lutheran is setting the pace at 80 points and a 26.7 average.

Howie Korth is also high on the list in sixth with a 17.0 mark.

Lakeland collected 73 rebounds to Trinity's 38 in its ninth victory against one loss. The victors' balanced scoring offensive included Jim Keuter with 30 points. Gary Hovey with 25 and Phil Springer with 22.

It was Trinity's second conference loss this year in Lakeland.

Milton Rallies
Milton, loser by 24 points to Ripon last week, trailed 38-36 at halftime before Lon Sherman's freethrow capped a seven-point surge to give Milton a permanent lead in the final five minutes.

During the second half, the lead changed hands nine times and the score was tied 12 times. Sherman was high scorer with 28 points. Milton is now 2-2 and Ripon is 3-4.

Oshkosh took a 40-38 lead over St. Norbert at intermission as the Oshkosh's Ron Hayek scored 23 points for the fourth consecutive game.

Oshkosh, leading the State University Conference, is 5-2 overall. High scorer was St. Norbert's Galen De Namur with 30 points.

Stout was charged with 22 fouls, but performed well under the hoops and collected 70 rebounds to Belhel's 31. Tom Struede paced Stout with 21 points. The victors are now 5-3.

Detroit Red Wings Sign Wolves' Star To Pro Contract

DETROIT (AP)—The University of Michigan's All-American hockey star, center Mel Wakabayashi, was signed Tuesday by the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League and immediately dispatched to their farm club at Memphis, Tenn.

A Canadian of Japanese ancestry, Wakabayashi is 23, stands 5-foot-6, weighs 140 pounds and has been credited with 37 points in 11 collegiate games this season.

A mid-year graduate, Wakabayashi's collegiate ability had expired. His home is Chatham, Ont.

Wakabayashi is to play with Memphis Thursday night, the Red Wings said, in a Central Professional Hockey League game at Houston.

Defending champion Carleton College and always-tough Ripon, both rated top contenders for the Midwest Conference basketball crown, will clash Friday night at Ripon in one of the feature games as all 10 teams swing into action this weekend.

Beloit College, the choice of the conference coaches as the team most likely to take the title, gets its first taste of conference activity Saturday night at Coe College.

Monmouth and Cornell have been tabbed as "darkhorses" by the mentors, but more overall balance is seen in the circuit for this season.

Similar Situations
Both Coach Bill Knapton at Beloit and Coach Jack Thurnblad at Carleton face similar situations. Both lost their top scorer, have their first string guards available and have one starter back for the front line.

John Weinert, in his first season at Ripon, has eight lettermen returning. They include four starters — Dave Minor, Rick Brown, Karl Deblitz and Bill Mikolyzik. Weinert considers the Redmen bench "our strongest asset" and plans to field a club which will maintain a strong defensive pressure.

Knapton's three Beloit starters returning are the guard co-captains, Lloyd Smith and Laniier Gordon, and forward Phil Woolley. Beloit lost Bob Rudolph, who was the league's No. 2 scorer a year ago when Beloit, with a 14-4 mark, finished a game behind Carleton, 15-3.

Super Bowl TV, Ticket Sales Remain Question Marks as Event Nears

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Super Bowl report: the Kansas City Chiefs have arrived and are practicing, Green Bay is on the way, ticket sales are questionable and a suit is proceeding over the scheduled television blackout of Los Angeles.

The Chiefs, champions of the American Football League, arrived in nearby Long Beach and held their first practice Wednesday afternoon.

Flanker Otis Taylor was fined for missing the team flight, but showed up at practice. Coach Hank Stram wouldn't say how much Taylor was fined, but set up strict training rules and emphasized:

"Anybody violating just one rule will be automatically fined $1,000."

The Chiefs, who beat Buffalo, 31-7, for the AFL title, have definite ideas about beating National Football League champion Green Bay in the first game of its kind Jan. 15 in Memorial Coliseum.

Stram said there will be a squad meeting each day at 10 a.m., the team will practice each afternoon for one hour and 15 minutes, and Disneyland isn't on the schedule.

The only injured Chief is tight end Fred Arbanas, who has a slight shoulder separation but is expected to be ready for the game.

Coach John Pitsch at Grinnell has three regulars returning including the team's second, third and fourth scorers. They are Elliott Hibbs, Tom Hill and Mike Schwartz. However, the Pioneers lost Jeff Frantz, 2-year all-conference choice who led the team in both scoring and rebounding. Grinnell also will be plagued by lack of height with nobody stretching above 6-4.

Heads Carleton

John Wilson, who had 266 points in the MC campaign a year ago, heads the Carleton team Clark Marshall, 6'7 forward, had 207 markers and Jim Shuman, at 6'4, had 89. Breaking into the Carls' lineup this year will be added rebound strength in the person of Tom Weaver, 6'8 center.

Lawrence has had trouble beating the Carls in basketball. Carleton has a 42-9 edge over the Vikes in cage history. Last season Carleton posted victories by scores of 87-81 and 80-66.

Coach Rusk is expected to go along with his starting unit that he has been using so far this season. This quintet includes Steve Simon, Mike Andrews and Bob Townsend in the front line with Brian Bock and Dick Schultz at the guards.

Dennis Kirchoff, Don Brooke and Bob Childs, who played key roles in the tourney consolation win for the Vikes, are the front line replacements for Lawrence.

In the first four games, the Vikings have scored 352 points, exactly the same number as their foes have recorded. This gives both Lawrence and its opponents an average of 81.2.

Frank Mahovich forgot to shout "Fore," and almost put the New York Rangers into the rough — the loss of their first-string goalie, Ed Giacomin.

It was "about a nine iron with a little too much twirl," Mahovich said of the shot which hit Giacomin on his left cheek and knocked him unconscious late in the second period of a National Hockey League game at Toronto Wednesday night.

But Giacomin, with a lump on the cheek as big as a man's fist, continued in the game which ended in a 1-1 tie and kept the Rangers in a first-place tie with Chicago.

Bobby Hull Stars

While Mahovich was demonstrating his golf form, Chicago's Bobby Hull was giving his polished impersonation of a one-man gang against Montreal in the only other game on the schedule. Hull scored two third-period goals to give the Black Hawks a 2-2 tie with the Canadiens.

Hull, who had two close-in shots topped by goalie Charlie Hodge in the first period, brought the Black Hawks to within one goal at 5:41 of the final period when he skated through the entire Montreal team and drilled a 10-footer past Hodge.

He then tied the game at 6:49 when he took a pass from Chico Maki and fired a 20-footer into the net. The Chicago star now has 17 goals.

Baseball Changes Scoring Rules on Bunting, Stealing

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball players who bunt for a hit will no longer automatically escape being charged with a time at bat, even if base runners advance on the play.

Charles Segar, chairman of the Scoring Rules Committee said Wednesday, "It's been obvious that players have been bunting for a base hit when their teams are losing, say 8 or 9-1."

Instructions to official scorers have been changed to read, "do not score a sacrifice bunt when in the judgment of the scorer the batter is bunting for a base hit and not solely for the purpose of advancing a runner or runners. In that event, charge the batter with a time at bat."

Another change credits a runner who is trapped off base, and reaches the next base without help from an error, with a stolen base even if the runner did not attempt to steal.

Julie Hidde had games of 200, 204 and 191 for the high series. A and Rita Eberhard had a 197 portion of the league honors line and 525 series.

Julie went to Bev Barczak with a 226 game and she finished with a 563 series.

Cash Register Tills Ringing Yet From Big Ski Weekend in North

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

By now, those aching muscles and fuzzy heads of thousands of skiers who brought in the new year in the snowy northlands should have returned to some kind of normalcy.

But the tills at the resorts still are ringing in the wake of the biggest skiing weekend ever.

The conditions for skiing and apres-skiing were excellent. And each schussboomer left behind a bit of his wallet — something around $25 a day — in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

At least two feet of snow covered the slopes and 5,000 skiers and snow bunnies jammed the chalets at Powderhorn and Indianhead. A daily dusting of powder along with a fresh supply of booze kept both the skiers and the resort owners joyous into the new year.

By the time the skis were racked and the cars pointed southward Monday evening, the Hurly-Ironwood-Bessemer businessmen were trying to figure out what to do with the $400,000 which had been injected into the economy of the once poverty-stricken area.

And there's more to come.

Before the next New Year's weekend rolls around, what promises to be the most elaborate and skiable resort in the midwest will be in full operation just a short drive from Bessemer.

The multi-million dollar Holiday Mountain resort will have gondolas to the top and chalets, saunas and swimming pools at the bottom.

This should be good for another 3,000 skiers in the area spending $75,000 a day.

The on-again, off-again Copper Peak project, which could develop into only the third ski flying hill in the world with jumps in the 500 feet category, needs to pass the federal needy test to get started.

The latest cost estimate is $1 million. If the mammoth slide ever gets built, Finnish and Austrian jumpers will draw crowds of 20,000 or so for the spectacles.

Hurley's White Cap Mountain is under new management this season and that resort is trying for a big comeback. Crowds have been meager for most of this winter but new facilities are planned to draw some of snow-bound winter enthusiasts and their dollars by next season.

The pioneer resort in the UP, Porcupine Mountain, may take on a new look — and new management — by next winter.

league. (North's defensive rate is 63.2). On the offense, however, the Terrors have scored an average of 11 points less per game than North.

Emanuel has continued shuffling his lineup to get some scoring punch to aid George Hoffman and Bob Simon. Hoffman, the league's eighth highest scorer, was held to two points by Neenah but has averaged 50.7 per FRVC game. Simon, who poured in 17 points against the powerful Rockets, is averaging 12.7 in league play.

Other possible AHS starters include Tom Hintz, Art Zuleger and Gary Lutz. Rick Stach, who came up with a solid 12-point performance against Neenah, and 6-4 Tom Jones also figure to see considerable action.

The chief North threat is 6-foot-5 Mike Hotz, whose 22-point average is second only to flashy Dick Diener's pace in the FRVC. The Raiders' only other double-figure man is Bill Pragalz, who is averaging 11 points.

Other probable North stars are 6-3 Curt Brost, 5-10 Don Helf and Mike Krueger, a junior.

Lawrence Swimmers Face U. of Chicago

The Lawrence University swim team opens the major portion of its swimming schedule Saturday when the Vikes travel to the University of Chicago.

Lawrence has had no dual competition to date, although some members of the team did participate in the Knox College relays before the holiday break.

Coach Gene Davis is expected to bring some tough competition from the Chicago tankers. The Chicagoans lost to a fine Eastern Michigan team, but showed considerable strength.

Two of the outstanding swimmers for Chicago are Tom Cagnon in the freestyle events and Bill Kalef in the breaststroke.

One New Event

One new event will be on the lineup Saturday as the 1,000-yard freestyle has been included for the first year. The event has been approved by the NCAA, but not adopted by the Midwest Conference so the Vikes will be entering it only in non-conference meets.

This weekend, Tochopner Mitchell will enter the grueling distance event for the Vikings.

The University of Chicago is a new foe on the Lawrence schedule. Coach Davis is expecting a tough meet and will be relying on a number of veterans to carry the squad through.

Captain Pete House will enter the 220-individual medley and also will compete in one of the relays and possibly the butterfly event. Carl Lieblich will be the freestyle sprinter and the backstroke entrants will include John Sanders and Hugh Denison.

Carrying the Vike hopes in the breaststroke will be John Isaac and Ken Melnick.

The Chicago meet will serve as a warmup for Lawrence, which entertains a pair of Midwest Conference foes next weekend when St. Olaf will be here Friday and Carleton Saturday.

Trying to Locate Boat, Campbell's Body

Divers Probe Depths of Lake

CONISTON, England (AP) — A team of eight Royal Navy divers today began probing the depths of Lake Coniston for the body of British speed ace Don Campbell.

Campbell, 45, crashed in his jet boat, Bluebird, while topping 300 miles per hour in a world water speed record attempt on the lake Wednesday.

The frogmen dived at 30-minute intervals in bitterly cold 350 miles an hour if the conditions were right," Norris said.

They had first to locate the jetboat, which somersaulted and sank in 120 feet of water.

Li. Commander John Fletcher today began probing the depths of Lake Coniston for the body of British speed ace Don Campbell.

Kenneth Norris, designer of the 12-year-old jetboat, was today studying film of the spectacular crash in an effort to find out what caused the tragedy.

"The boat could have reached 350 miles an hour if the conditions were right," Norris said.

"But even a small wave can be dangerous at these speeds. The dead speed king.

When he is hard-pressed to point out a Dave Bing weakness, Detroit Player-Coach Dave DeBusschere will say the brilliant Pistons' rookie needs a little work on his defense.

But then Bing will come up with a performance like the one he turned in during the Pistons' 132-126 National Basketball Association double-overtime victory over Baltimore Wednesday night and defense seems almost beside the point.

Bing scored six points in the second overtime and led the Pistons with 33 points, the same number Don Ohl had for Baltimore. The Pistons had led by as much as 13 points in the second half, but the Bulls took an 86-77 lead after three periods as the Pistons got just 14 points in the third period.

Tap-in Shot
A tap-in by DeBusschere with 30 seconds left sent the game into overtime.

Jack Marin's 20-foot jumper in the final second of the first overtime gave the Bulls an overtime chance, but only delayed their 10th straight defeat, a club record.

In other NBA games Wednesday, Philadelphia beat Chicago 136-115 in Philadelphia and the Lakers whipped St. Louis 122-
101 at Los Angeles.

Philadelphia won its 11th game in a row with Bill Cunningham scoring 27 points and Wilt Chamberlain hauling in 25 rebounds, scoring 21 points and passing off for nine assists. Bob Boozer and Erwin Mueller led the Bulls with 20 points each.

The Lakers reeled off 17 straight points during a four-minute span in the final period that carried them to their victory over St. Louis. Jerry West topped Los Angeles with 35 points while Joe Caldwell was high for the Hawks with 30.

Trading Heavy On Wall Street

Stock Market Surges Ahead This Morning

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market surged ahead early this afternoon under the strong influence of reinvestment demand. Trading was heavy.

Volume was swelled by a parade of big blocks in high-quality issues, reflecting a rebirth of investment by financial institutions with plenty of funds available after the rash of tax-selling which marred the end of 1966.

The market advanced from the start, following through on the sharp upturn of the previous session when a decline was converted into a rally.

Dow Jones Industrial
The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 8.41 at 799.55.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 2.7
at 297.4 with industrials up 4.5, rails up 1.5 and utilities up .6.

Steels were making their best showing in weeks as they responded to Wall Street recommendations. All Big Three autos were gainers.

Control Data rose 1 to 38 on a delayed opening block of 80, 000 shares.

Prices advanced in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Meaning of Minimum Wage Change on Feb. 1

BY SYLVIA PORTER

On Feb. 1, less than a month from today, the first parts of the sweeping 1966 amendments to the federal wage-hour laws will go into effect. They will represent the most drastic overhaul of these laws since their enactment 29 years ago. They will also signal an historic breakthrough in minimum wage coverage of U.S. workers. Under the amendments:

— The minimum wage of nearly 30 million previously covered workers will rise from today's $1.25 to $1.40 an hour. This will mean 3.8 million workers will get automatic wage hikes, the rest already make $1.40 an hour or more.

— For the first time, another 8 million workers will come under the laws, will be guaranteed a minimum of $1 an hour and will be eligible for overtime after 44 hours a week. This will mean about one million newly covered workers will get wage hikes; the rest already make $1 an hour or more.

— "Just a Starter" — Of the newly covered workers 390,000 will be farm workers. This is the historic breakthrough — even though the provision now will apply only to workers on large commercial farms which employ the equivalent of seven or more full-time hired men. But this is only for a 40-hour week, for instance, the opening wedge President Johnson himself hailed the extension to farm hands as "just a starter."

— Most of the other 8 million newly covered workers will be employees of retail stores, restaurants, hotels and other enterprises with annual sales of $500,000 or more. The "sales test" until now has been $1 million.

Moreover, Feb. 1 will mark only the first steps. The minimum wage for previously covered workers will rise again to $1.60 an hour on Feb. 1, 1968 — giving automatic wage hikes

To U.S. employers, the changes will mean an extra wage bill running near $2 billion a year just to comply with the new minimums, according to a Prentice-Hall analysis. And they will mean a wage bill running to millions of additional dollars for employees who will insist on pay increases to maintain wage differentials.

More Purchasing Power — To our economy in general, the amendments will mean a stimulant to purchasing power — and every penny being granted because of the new minimums will be spent by the workers immediately. At this wage level there's not much, if any, room for savings. Undoubtedly the higher wage bills will squeeze some marginal enterprises. Undoubtedly the costs will be passed on to moderate extent at least in the form of some price increases. But the evidence is persuasive — giving more automatic wage hikes to more millions. A whole range of other changes is directly ahead is a massive liberalization indeed.

What will it all mean? To the workers directly affected, the obvious meaning is more pay. A worker getting $50 a week, for instance, cry of "disaster to business" was raised, after each increase, the U.S. economy adjusted to the steeper costs with comparative ease.

What's more, Prentice-Hall points out a series of ways will demand — and win —

businessmen can — and undoubtedly will — offset much of the expense. As an illustration, many will maintain wage differentials by percentage increases which gradually taper off, instead of boosting salaries by an identical amount. The $50 a week man will get $6; the $60 a week man might get $5; the $70 a week man, $4; the $80 a week man, $3; the $90 a week man, $2; the $100 a week man, $1, and the $110 a week man, $0. Others will shift hourly jobs to incentive piece-rate jobs. Still others will adjust their methods of paying overtime to keep these costs to a minimum.

But one point that "Feb. 1" will dramatize above all: 1967 will be a year of powerful uptrend in paychecks.

Menasha Girl, 12, Shot by Rifle

MENASHA — A 12-year-old Menasha girl is in serious condition at Theda Clark Memorial Hospital today with a rifle bullet wound in her left shoulder, the result of an accidental shooting in a Town of Menasha home Wednesday night.

Debra Runnoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard U. Runnoe, 1087 Appleton Road, was struck by a 30-30 rifle slug fired by a 14-year-old friend in his family's home about 8 p.m.

Winnebago County Sheriff Department authorities said a juvenile referral would be made on the youth for reckless use of a firearm.

According to reports given authorities, the youth was playing with the rifle and loaded a bullet into it. He told police he thought the safety latch was on.

The boy and a 10-year-old brother were home alone and apparently invited several rifle, he reportedly pointed it in the general direction of Debra, who was sitting on a davenport. He pulled the trigger and the bullet struck her in the shoulder.

Authorities at Theda Clark said the girl was operated on Wednesday night. The girl's father this morning said nerve tissue was destroyed by the bullet and part of the upper arm and shoulder blade had been shattered.

According to authorities, the youth first started playing with a shotgun and then with the rifle. After loading the

Legislation Might Close Money Gap

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — An association of officials of the state's largest cities was created here Wednesday to develop common grounds for legislation to ease the growing local revenue gap.

The informal group, which grew out of a session called by Madison Mayor Otto Festge, drew approval of representatives of more than a dozen of the state's largest municipalities. They voted to create the informal association, and to meet again next month in a two-day seminar to study proposals made for legislation designed to gain greater amounts of state taxes for their municipalities.

The meetings will be Feb. 22-23 in Oshkosh and will consider proposals made by both Festge and Milwaukee Mayor Henry Maier to raise funds for meeting exploding local fiscal deficits.

Representatives of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, in pushing for legislative remedies from the 1967 Legislature, have estimated the gap will be as large as $200 million for state cities by 1970.

The group refused to endorse specific proposals made by both Festge and Maier before consulting with local city councils, but elected Festge as chairman of the association and Harry

Football Games Given Credit for Cut in Road Toll

Many Motorists Became Television Viewers on Holidays

CHICAGO (AP) — The heavy fare of televised football on Christmas and New Year's holiday weekends was credited by one safety expert today with holding down the nation's traffic death tolls.

Eyes glued to the tube meant that cars were in garages and not on the road.

The television/football theory for low Christmas and New Year death tolls was advanced by Warren C. Nelson, Ohio's highway safety director.

'Near Screens'

"The big roundup of bowl games on TV over the weekend might have kept many home viewers near their screens and not on the roads," he said.

The nation's three-day Christmas traffic toll was 584, well below the safety council's pre-holiday estimate of 650 to 750 deaths. The toll for the three-day New Year weekend was 469.

Continue Attacks on Supply Barges

Two U.S. Planes Shot Down in Raids

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S. Navy pilots claimed a two-day score today of 183 North Vietnamese supply barges, Christmas and New Year truce — while South Vietnamese spokesmen listed a decrease in their casualties.

The Navy pilots reported hitting 77 more water craft during forays along the North Vietnamese coast Wednesday to add to 111 reported destroyed or damaged on the previous day.

Other American planes showed Hanoi with 2.2 million psychological warfare leaflets Wednesday and scattered 2.6 million more on other areas of North Vietnam.

The leaflets dropped on the North Vietnamese capital warned that if the Communists continue the war in the South, destruction will follow in the North, a U.S. spokesman said. The other leaflets cautioned the North Vietnamese people that their money would become worthless and less as the war went on.

Lull Continues

The ground war in South Vietnam continued in a lull as it has all this week. Both the U.S. and South Vietnamese military commands reported only minor skirmishes.

U. S. military headquarters reported an increase in American casualties last week — although it included 48 hours of Christmas and New Year truce — while South Vietnamese spokesmen listed a decrease in their casualties.

U.S. officials reported 128 Americans were killed and 634 were wounded, compared with 109 killed and 547 wounded in the previous week. The increase apparently was due to several sharp engagements, including one big action in the central highlands.

882 Reds Dead — U.S. military headquarters said 146 of their troops were killed last week and 14 were missing. The figures the week before were 203 killed and 37 missing.

Enemy casualties also were less. U.S. headquarters said 882 Communists were killed and 133 captured last week, compared

Appleton recorded 2½ inches of new snow over the night, with the mercury dipping to 13 above zero. The outlook calls for snow in the Fox Valley tonight and Friday, although not as much as was recorded Wednesday.

Racine recorded 3 inches of new snow. Beloit had 2 inches. Madison, Lone Rock, La Crosse, Wausau, Eau Claire and Park Falls 1.

Almost Killed by U. S. Bombers

Two Americans Kept Viet Cong Happy by Singing

LONG BINH, South Vietnam (AP) — Two American civilians said today that during seven months as prisoners of the Viet Cong they got bad food but were not mistreated, sang songs for the Communists, were given a Christmas party and were almost killed by an American air raid.

"The Viet Cong were impressed by our cheerful attitude," said Thomas R. Scales, 44, of Matamoras, Pa. "We sang and whistled all the time. They asked us to sing and we sang 'Jingle Bells' and 'My Wild Irish Rose.' We're both lousy singers, but the Viet Cong seemed to like it."

Scales and Robert W. Monahan, 41, of Bellport, Long Island, were captured May 27 on a road near Vung Tau, 40 miles southeast of Saigon, where they were employed as supervisors for Pacific Architects and Engineers, an American firm working in South Vietnam under military contract.

They appeared before a large group of newsmen at a U. S. hospital to which they were brought following their release Wednesday near Xuan Loc, 40 miles northeast of Saigon.

Fair Condition — Since their capture May 28, Scales had lost 55 pounds and now weighs 122. Monahan lost 75 pounds and now weighs 141. But except for malnutrition, they were pronounced in fair condition by Army doctors.

Wearing blue Army hospital pajamas, the pair said the Viet Cong told them they were released because they finally had shown repentance.

"We don't know what we repented for," said Scales. "They told us if we didn't repent we would spend five years in prison."

Scales, who is married and has one child, told of their capture. He said their vehicle broke down about 4 p.m. and they were suddenly "surrounded by about 10 Viet Cong armed with pistols, rifles and grease guns (a light automatic weapon)."

Scales said one of the Communists held a pistol to his forehead and another held a gun at the back of Monahan's head. He said they were blindfolded and bound and taken to the first of several different prisoner camps.

"For the first 14 days," Scales said, "we were tied with cables around our feet. But after that

Forced Into Shelter

Scales related that at one camp they were caught in a U. S. air strike. They threw themselves on the ground, he said, but their guards made them get up and run in bare feet to an air raid shelter.

"The shelter was a hole in the ground covered with timbers," Scales said.

Scales said the ground around them shook and they thought they would be killed in the air raid.

He said they were the only Americans in the camp but there were nine other prisoners, all Vietnamese.

About two months after their capture, he continued, the Viet Cong brought in a Philippine woman and her husband, also a Filipino.

They were Vincente Gaza, an

Abduction Count Filed Against Man

Charge Marvin Barth
With Detaining
17-Year-Old Girl

A 27-year-old Appleton man was arraigned Wednesday in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 on a felony charge of abduction involving a 17-year-old rural Black Creek girl.

Marvin Barth, 721 N. Morrison St., was jailed in lieu of posting $3,000 bond levied by County Judge Gustave J. Keller. The charge against Barth alleges he used force to detain the girl last Saturday night.

Barth was arraigned following an investigation by Outagamie County Sheriff's Department investigators. Police allege Barth abducted the girl after an auto accident near her home on a town road.

Police said Barth was driving a car which struck the side of an auto driven by another 17-year-old girl. The accident reportedly occurred at about 9 p.m. Saturday.

Barth allegedly dragged the girl, who was a passenger, from the car and forced her to get into the car which he was driving. Investigators said Barth held the girl in his car until 3 a.m. Sunday when she was driven to her home in a taxi.

During an afternoon court appearance, Barth was found indigent by the court. Judge Keller appointed Atty. William F. Hegner, Appleton, as defense counsel. Barth's trial was continued to Jan. 6.

Park Purchase Okayed for Winnebago

OSHKOSH — Authorization to proceed with the acquisition of the R. M. Brainard property on Lake Winnebago for a county park will be asked of the county board next Tuesday by the Conservation, Park and Recreation committee.

The committee will ask the board to release $75,000 of the funds set aside for land acquisition to acquire the Brainard property "by the best means possible." This would include going to condemnation if a sale price cannot be agreed upon.

The committee's action Tuesday night was made possible by a "letter of consent" received from the office of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

The letter told the county, in effect, they could proceed with the purchase of the land without endangering their application for federal funds. However, it was stressed the latter was not to imply the county's application was being approved or would be approved in the future.

The application for federal funds under the open space act is for 50 per cent of the purchase price of the land.

Supv. Roland Kampe, Town of Menasha, said it should be decided, and understood, whether they plan to proceed with the purchase even if their application for federal funds is rejected, and the county has to pay the full amount.

2 Men Injured in Head-On Crash

KAUKAUNA — Two men were treated at a local physician's office and released following a head-on collision about 6:10 p.m. Thursday in which both the 1956 and 1959 model cars they were driving were demolished, according to police.

Police stated, Orville Cleveland, 22, 415 Klein St., Kaukauna, was traveling west on Third Street when a car driven by Jeffery Bangart, 19, 801 Oviatt St., Kaukauna, traveling east on Third, crossed the center line and the cars collided. Cleveland complained of injuries to the left arm and side and Bangart sustained a cut on his chin.

Clintonville To Survey Housing Needs

CLINTONVILLE — The special committee on housing for the survey, the aged asked the common council Tuesday night to make a survey on the number of people in the city and adjoining towns who are in the 62 and older age group.

The survey would determine those interested in a housing development and what type of housing they preferred, such as single units, duplex or apartments, said Ald. Leon Steenbock, committee chairman.

The committee said the survey should be made by people in that same age group who had similar interests. The survey would have to cover those interested and those who would qualify.

Mayor Frank Sinkewicz said the need for low-cost housing for the aged would have to be demonstrated. Sinkewicz will

Spice Will Draw Lowest Pay Possible as New Undersheriff

Executive Committee Makes Ruling Behind Closed Doors

Calvin L. Spice, who earlier this week completed two terms as Outagamie County Sheriff and who now is undersheriff for Norbert J. Marx, begins his new duties at the lowest salary in his pay grade.

Spice's new salary was set Wednesday afternoon by the county board's executive committee which, after considerable discussion and two different votes, (one following a closed-door session) decided it would treat Spice as a new county employee, in pay grade 19.

Spice, who served nearly 11 years on the Outagamie County Traffic Patrol before being elected sheriff in 1962, will draw $577 a month. He earned $8,300 as sheriff, although the sheriff's salary as of Jan. 1 jumped to $9,000.

Unanimous Decision

The matter of undersheriff salary came up late in the morning committee session at which time, after a short discussion, the 10 supervisors present voted unanimously to start Spice as a new employee.

Root got support from Appleton Supv. Patrick Mares and from Supv. Joseph DeBruin of the Town of Buchanan who said, "that if he (DeBruin) were land, 22, 415 Klein St., Kaukauna, was traveling west on Third Street when a car driven by Jeffery Bangart, 19, 801 Oviatt St., Kaukauna, traveling east on Third, crossed the center line and the cars collided. Cleveland complained of injuries to the left arm and side and Bangart sustained a cut on his chin.

Supv. Marvin Babbitt, county board vice chairman, contended that the committee (which also serves as the civil service and salary unit) could not allow for Spice's long experience because "he is at the call of the sheriff who, if he wanted, could fire him at any time."

Sheriff Marx, during the afternoon session, recommended that the committee reconsider its earlier action and asked that Spice, because of his 20 years of full-time police experience, be placed at the top of Grade 19.

Marx stated, in a letter to the committee, that Civil Service ordinances permit other than minimum starting pay if experience is a factor.

A Post-Crescent reporter was asked by supervisors to leave the executive committee meeting when Marx began his discussion about 3 p.m.

Legality Sought

When the reporter inquired to the nature of the forthcoming discussions, County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler said only that it concerned personnel. When the reporter replied that merely discussions concerning personnel are not legal grounds for closing a public meeting, at least one of the supervisors turned to the sheriff and asked him if he had the WAUPACA — Waupaca Police Chief Fred Rasmussen received notice that he has been accepted to attend a four-week school on administration for police executives at the University of Wisconsin, Madison.

However, Esler quickly explained that the discussion would involve "wages for the sheriff and undersheriff." The reporter then left. At 3 p.m. Marx came out of the closed committee room at 3:10 p.m. and the closed session was over at 4:35 p.m.

Although the nature of the discussion behind closed doors was not revealed, supervisors immediately after the meeting again was opened, repeated their unanimous vote to start Spice at the bottom of grade 19 — as a new employee.

Marx pointed out later that Spice will be paid less than either of the two sheriff's department lieutenants and all four of the traffic sergeants — two of whom have held the posts less than seven months.

Marx indicated he intends to take further steps in appealing the executive committee decision.

Halts After Warning Shot

Parolee Captured After Chase in Post-Crescent

A 23-year-old alleged parole violator from Minnesota was taken into custody by Outagamie County Sheriff's investigators at noon Wednesday in the parking lot at The Post-Crescent after he attempted to escape and was halted after police fired a warning shot.

Arrested following a chase that started in the news room of The Post-Crescent, was Howard F. Capener, 700 S. Memorial Drive, a Post-Crescent employee.

Since Dec. 19, Sheriff's investigators said Capener "absconded from supervision of Minnesota authorities."

Investigators Russell Bowers

and George Hanlon came to The Post-Crescent with papers for Capener's arrest about noon. They conferred with Capener in a private office.

Accompanied to Desk About five minutes later, after investigators read the summons to Capener, they came out. One investigator stood near the main entrance and the other accompanied Capener to his desk in the city room.

Capener fumbled around his desk for a short time, went to get his coat and hat, then came back to his desk. Hanlon stood near Capener when suddenly the man shoved the investigator and fled out a door leading to the composing room.

Two composing room employees, Mrs. Edith Schmiede (widow of the late Judge Oscar Schmiede) and Clarence (Willy) Bentle, were knocked to the floor just inside the composing room when Capener slammed into them. Mrs. Schmiede suffered a bruised knee and wrist.

Oregon Native Capener, who, on his application for employment at The Post-Crescent, said he is a native of Astoria, Ore., ran nearly the entire length of the composing room, pursued by the two investigators and Bill Knutson, Post-Crescent police reporter.

Capener then ran down a flight of stairs and through a door on the west side of the building. Bowers, who was about five steps behind Capener, hollered several orders to halt, but Capener kept running.

He ran across a small parking area on the west side of the building and was nearly to Van Steen Ford used car lot on W.

New Warden Assigned to Calumet Post

Richard A. Streng
Is Successor to Keith Reichenbach

CHILTON — Richard A. Streng, 24, a Milwaukee native and former Hortonville resident, has been appointed Calumet County's new conservation warden. Streng, whose appointment became effective this week, fills the vacancy created when Keith Reichenbach, county warden for almost six years, was promoted to a district post and transferred to Jefferson County.

Seasonal Employee

The Calumet post is Streng's first permanent assignment. He had worked for the department as a seasonal warden for several years, primarily on the Wolf River, and worked for the department's park system in Door County.

National Citation

Chilton Wins Safety Award

CHILTON — Police Chief Daniel Albedyll, Mayor Harry Thompson and William Engler Jr., Kiwanis past president, were present at a Madison awards banquet today to accept the National Safety Council award for the city's "excellent vehicle safety check" last spring.

Albedyll had been notified in August that Chilton was judged one of five winners in the nation for cities of 10,000 and under population.

Notification came both from M. R. Darlington Jr., of the national vehicle safety check committee and from the National Safety Council in Washington, D.C.

The award had been conferred by a national board of judges which met in Washington, D.C., early in August.

Award winners were determined on the basis of scrapbook presentations made by the city and county groups conducting local safety checks. Points considered in judging were the overall quality of the program, community-wide participation and percentage of vehicles checked and re-checked.

The safety check program here was sponsored by the Chilton Kiwanis Club and the city police. Albedyll was safety check chairman and coordinator of local activities. Motorcycles also were checked.

Chilton was one of several thousand communities participating in the nationwide program sponsored annually by the auto industries, Highway Safety Committee and Look Magazine with the cooperation of the association of state and provincial safety coordinators.

The Chilton award was the top honor received in the state. Other recipients were the cities of Oshkosh and Milwaukee; Door, Waukesha and Milwaukee counties, and Wisconsin State University-Platteville.

Committee Favors Mosquito Hill Park

Board Will be Asked to Seek Federal Grant for Development

Outagamie County Board supervisors next Tuesday will be asked to approve a resolution to apply for a federal grant of approximately $30,000 for purchase of 463 acres of land at Mosquito Hill, near New London.

The event is being sponsored by the Knights of Columbus, Father Herb Council, and Lodge 131, Free and Accepted Masons. Tickets for the event are being sold by Robert Bridges, Marion Huppler, Pete Laux, Jerome Freiburger and Norman Kawell. Tickets also are available at a number of New London stores.

Members of the executive committee unanimously approved a resolution outlining plans for submitting a grant application to the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The grant is authorized by Title VII of the 1961 Housing Act.

Urge Approval Gordon Bubolz, chairman of the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning commission, and Executive Director William E. Morris attended the executive committee session to urge approval of the measure.

The property is south of County Trunk S and near Roger and Mosquito Hill roads. Chairman of the Parks and Recreation Committee, Supv. Joseph H. DeBruin, Kaukauna, today said the land being sought includes 1 to 1½ miles of Wolf River shoreline. It is wooded and has several sets of abandoned farm buildings, he said.

If supervisors okay the resolution, the county corporation counsel will file the application for a federal grant.

The Mosquito Hill site was one of three spots appraised in recent months for possible development as park sites. The other locations were Center Swamp, Town of Center, and a site near Kaukauna.

DeBruin said the county would probably wait a couple of years before beginning development activities at Mosquito Hill if the resolution and grant is approved.

James Lindow, city assessor-treasurer, reported that $36,400.93 in advance taxes were received in his office by Dec. 30, 1966, and since that time, total amount of taxes to be collected is $673,720.

Developer Had Planned Supermarket

CLINTONVILLE — Despite dissension among aldermen, the council, at a special meeting Tuesday night, protected the city comprehensive plan for development by voting to buy a piece of downtown private property at a cost of $26,500.

The S. Main Street property owned by Edgar Winkel, includes a half acre of land next to the Pigeon River, which had been proposed for park and parking area in the city's comprehensive plan.

George Graff, Clintonville real estate man, represented Winkel in the transaction which calls for payment in three installments, plus 4½ per cent interest on the unpaid balance.

Propose Supermarket

At a special session of the council Dec. 28, the aldermen authorized its board of public works to negotiate with Graff for purchase of the land after he disclosed that a firm sought the property for construction of a supermarket.

Such construction would have conflicted with future city development as presented by Max E. Anderson Associates, Madison, planning consultants. Anderson was present last week for the special council meeting and informed the council that if the market was constructed in the proposed parking area, the entire plan would have to be redrawn. He advised the purchase of the property by the city, if necessary, to preserve the integrity of the plan.

Chief objection to construction of a supermarket was its location at the rear of the land in an area facing the proposed civic center. That is the area planned as a park, with parking space adjacent to both the park and shops on Main Street.

Along River

The Winkel property has a 60-foot frontage on Main Street between Pries Apparel and Schauder & Schauder Shoe Store and a total depth of 450 feet, east to the Pigeon River. From the Main Street frontage to the alley, there is 160 feet, and the balance goes between the alley and the river.

Mayor Frank Sinkewicz emphasized the Winkel property is the key to the proposed central business plan. He also said the city only needs the back portion of the property.

There was considerable discussion by aldermen before action was taken. Ald. Donald Thompson said people who had contacted him said they didn't think the city should get into the real estate business. He pointed out that the property was assessed at $15,000 and the asking price was $26,500. Ald. Ed Wanta said he felt all aldermen should express their opinions.

Questions Buildings

Ald. Calvin Waite said he was very much in favor of purchasing this land, but he questioned if the present buildings could

Plan Ice-Out Contest 'Think Spring,' Fremonters Told

FREMONT — While winter increases its fury, members of the Wolf River American Legion Post, mindful that spring must follow, are completing plans for the annual Wolf River ice-out contest.

The contest awards a $100 first prize, $50 second prize and $25 third prize to the entrants judging the time nearest the time the ice actually leaves the river here.

The time is authenticated when a dummy, "Wilmer the Wolf Watcher," seated in a boat floats beneath the Fremont bridge with the ice floes and stops the time clock by disconnecting the electric cord.

Annual Contest
The contest, sponsored by the legion for the past 12 years, began this year with the distribution of membership tickets by Walter Hass who was assisted by Chris Burgner and Olin Mead. At a later date the dummy and boat will be placed on the ice.

New Year's Day 1954 was the first time in memory that a motor boat was on the Wolf River but New Year's Day last year was observed with motor boats pulling water skiers dressed in skin diving suits.

Ice-out dates during the past 10 years are:
March 21, 1957; March 24, 1958; April 5, 1959; April 2, 1960; March 23, 1961; March 30, 1962; March 29, 1963; March 14, 1964; with April 8, 1965 being the latest ice out date in the 30 years of record keeping, and March 9, 1966, the earliest date on record.

New Taxes Won't End Revenue Gap, Meier Tells Cities

BY TIM WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Milwaukee Mayor Henry Meier warned Wisconsin city officials Wednesday not to expect new forms of taxation from the 1967 legislature to close the mushrooming local revenue gap.

Speaking at a novel meeting of state mayors here, Meier said that the anti-tax attitudes of Wisconsin legislative leaders forecloses the possibility of any new forms of revenue raising which could be used to supply state-shared money.

He placed the blame squarely on the shoulders of Assembly Speaker Harold Froehlich, (R-Appleton) and co-chairman of the legislative joint committee

Walter Hollander (R-Rosendale), Assemblyman Byron Wackett (R-Watertown) and the Legislative Council, all of whom, according to Meier, have created an anti-local tax atmosphere for the coming session.

Improve Efficiency

The council recently declined to recommend proposed bills which would levy a local gross income tax, a wheel tax and a transient room tax, all to finance growing municipal expenditures. It recommended instead that studies be made of means to improve local government efficiency before any such sweeping changes are made.

Meier proposed — and said that bills will be entered in the coming session to create — three major tax changes within existing finance structures.

—A redistribution of state utility taxes on the basis of the existing property tax relief formula. Meier also said that in such considerations more emphasis must be placed on the areas in which the utility does business rather than on where its plant is located.

Share Increase

—A 50-50 sharing with the state of the increase in revenue obtained from the selective sales tax. Again he endorsed distribution according to the property tax relief formula with emphasis on high-tax communities.

—A freezing of the present local share of individual state income tax distribution at $85 million and the distribution of the increase of the local share over that amount on the basis of the same property tax relief structure.

The final point, he said, would insure that all communities would continue to receive aids at their present levels but that larger cities would gain more from any future increase. He said conservative estimates indicated that the amount to be added to property tax relief funds under his proposals would increase by $10 million a year.

The meeting here was called by Madison Mayor Otto Festge in an effort to consolidate support by larger Wisconsin municipalities for changes in tax aid systems. It is being attended by more than 30 city officials from 19 of the state's largest communities, including Appleton and Green Bay.

Alvin Fulcer's Report

Village President Lauds Kimberly's '66 Growth

KIMBERLY — "Kimberly is on the move. Let's do everything we can to keep it moving," said Alvin Fulcer, village president, Tuesday night as he spoke to trustees on the state of the village.

"In my opinion 1966 was an outstanding year and a remarkable job was done by all concerned. Book-wise we are starting the new year on a cash basis. I am sure we can repeat these words going into 1967. I think you will agree that the 1967 budget provides adequately for needs," he continued.

Areas pointing to the movement of the village mentioned by the president include: major improvements to equipment at Kimberly-Clark resulting in considerable upgrading of products to benefit all, the new Mount Hope Machinery industry, Red Owl providing the village with another modern super market, expansion and improvement of Eiting's Super Market, start of development on a shopping center with more development in 1967 and the purchase by the village of a 45-acre industrial park site.

"As I have often said before, the time to start controlling the new budget is Jan. 1. You people have demonstrated your willingness and ability to do it that way. I want to sincerely say thanks to all departments and employees involved. All did an outstanding job in 1966," Fulcer said.

Fulcer mentioned the recent tragedy which orphaned eight children in the community, commended the police department for their work in handling the situation and told trustees, everything possible would be done to relieve the problems facing the children

Outagamie Official Charges Laxness In Notification on Reportable Deaths

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps used his Appleton woman two days after annual report to criticize some area hospitals for what he indicated is a laxness in reporting questionable deaths to the coroner's office.

Kemps, in his 16th annual report, said that there was a decrease of nine in the number of deaths investigated by his office. The 1966 total was 134.

"In view of the fact that the county population continues to grow, I can't help but suspect that the drop is only in reported deaths and not necessarily in reportable deaths," Kemps said.

He cited three cases where reportable deaths were not reported. He explained that a hospital failed to report a traffic fatality and a similar death went unreported until the following day.

Forms Available For Tax Relief At Clerk's Office

$100 Damage in Crash On New London Street

NEW LONDON — Damage estimated at more than $100 resulted from a car-truck accident at 4:45 p.m. Wednesday on Shawano Street, about 50 feet south of N. Water Street.

City police said a truck driven by Joseph J. Van Handel, 22, 210 S. Rankin St., Appleton, had stopped for an arterial when a northbound car driven by Neil F. Lorge, 17, Clark St., Bear Creek, skidded on the icy pavement into the left rear wheels of the truck trailer.

Judge Gustave J. Keller named Appleton Attorney William Hegner to act as defense counsel at county expense.

Barth was arrested by county investigators after he allegedly abducted the girl from a car at approximately 9 p.m. last Saturday. Police said the girl was forced into Barth's car and held for about six hours before being released.

Judge Keller set bond at $3,000 and continued the case to Friday.

Farmers Continue Conservation Efforts

$200 Million in Federal Cost-Sharing Funds Expended During 1966, Freeman Reports

By OVID A. MARTIN, AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman reported Tuesday that farmers are continuing to increase their efforts to conserve soil, water, timber and wildlife despite rising food demands upon them.

The secretary said that more than one million farms increased the acreage treated for conservation purposes in 1966 under a cost-sharing department conservation program. About $200 million in federal funds was spent on these efforts.

In addition, farmers in 33 states also obtained cost-sharing funds from the department to help repair and restore land damaged by natural disasters.

Eight Orphaned DeHart Childrens' Fund Swells To $152 at Kimberly State Bank

KIMBERLY — Kimberly State Bank officials Wednesday reported that a total of $152.35 was turned in Tuesday by six contributors to a fund being raised for eight DeHart children orphaned by a tragedy early New Year's Day.

Most of the money, $127.35, was collected by five youngsters between the ages of 11 and 15. The children went from door to door in Kimberly to collect the money, bank officials said. They are Thomas Wydeven, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wydeven, 265 Ann St.; Keith, 15, Judy, 13, and Eddie Hofkens, 11, sons and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hofkens, 222 Ann St., and Dan Loisel, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Loisel, 239 Ann St.

The Wydeven youth and Keith Hofkens collected an additional $92 later in the day. Bank officials said six more contributions were turned in today but the amount was undetermined.

The drive was initiated when Kimberly Village President Alvin Fulcer signed a proclamation establishing an assistance fund for the DeHart children, ages 7 through 18. Their parents Charles L. DeHart, 39, and his wife, Dorothy, 37, died Sunday morning in what Outagamie County authorities termed a murder-suicide.

Court Names Counsel For Appleton Man in Abduction Case

Marvin Barth, 27, 721 N. Morrison St., was found indigent Wednesday afternoon in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 after being arraigned during the morning on a charge of abduction involving a 17-year-old rural Black Creek girl.

Judge Gustave J. Keller named Appleton Attorney William Hegner to act as defense counsel at county expense.

Barth was arrested by county investigators after he allegedly abducted the girl from a car at approximately 9 p.m. last Saturday. Police said the girl was forced into Barth's car and held for about six hours before being released.

Judge Keller set bond at $3,000 and continued the case to Friday.

Clintonville Protects Plan by Buying Land

Later, a motion was passed to transfer $9,000 from the general fund for the purchase. Council's action to buy the Winkel property was one of the first steps taken in the Urban Planning Assistance Program.

A motion was made by Ald. Waite, seconded by Ald. Evan Hedtke, that the city purchase the Winkel property in accordance with the offer to purchase presented by Graff and that the land west of the alley with the two buildings, (fronting on Main Street) be offered for re-sale, and that the Mayor and Clerk be authorized to sign the necessary papers;

Parolee Caught After Chase

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 Washington Street when Bowers ordered him to stop or he would shoot. When Capener kept running, Bowers fired a single warning shot into the air.

Stops After Shot
Capener stopped immediately and raised his hands. He offered no further resistance as Bowers and Hanlon placed an arm lock on him and handcuffed his hands behind him. He was placed in a county squad car immediately and was booked into the jail at 12:10 p.m.

Capener was hired at The Post-Crescent Dec. 15 as a copy reader-reporter. He reportedly had worked on a weekly newspaper in California and he told authorities that prior to coming to Appleton last month, he worked at Springfield, Minn.

County investigators said the papers for Capener's apprehension came from the State of Minnesota division of corrections.

Capener, according to authorities, had served time in the Minnesota State Reformatory for aggravated armed robbery. He was released from the reformatory Nov. 3, according to records.

Capener was not armed at the time of his arrest, police said. Authorities said they were told the armed robbery occurred in Hudson, Minn. They did not know how long Capener served for the nature of the armed robbery.

Mayor Sinkewicz outlined some of his plans for the city in 1967. He said steps should be taken early to implement the city's comprehensive plan. Also that the application for a workable plan be completed.

Mayor Sinkewicz said that Anderson has asked for appointment of a citizens' committee to implement the city's program.

Tavern operator licenses were approved for Helen Harris, Columbia Hotel, and Donald Hanson, 116 E. Madison St.

The New Legislature

The restoration of Republican party control in both houses of the legislature when they convene on January 11 represents a return to the historical pattern of political organization in the Wisconsin lawmaking branch. If there is anything unusual about the political flavor of the new legislature, as has been noted elsewhere in these pages recently, it is the comparatively narrow margin of supremacy of the Republicans in the assembly.

That appears to run counter to the usual pattern of Wisconsin electoral behavior, and it may mean that the Democrats of our state did not do as poorly as some of the immediate election accounts suggested, and as some of their own commentaries despairingly indicated. In the face of the spectacular Republican victory margins in representative congressional districts of Wisconsin, and the handsome endorsement given to Republican Gov. Warren P. Knowles, the Democratic possession of 47 out of the 100 seats in the assembly is a highly respectable one.

The assembly party division is probably a more reliable barometer of the political attitude of the Wisconsin electorate on statehouse affairs than is the party lineup in the state senate. The constitutional fathers provided longer terms for state senators, and arranged to have only one half of the house submitted to the scrutiny of the voters at each election.

Thus the Republicans were not as seriously affected by the Democratic landslide of 1964, with respect to their state senate representation, because the voters could not react as decisively toward the senators. Republicans consequently had a secure control of the upper house in the 1965 session, although they had surrendered rule to the Democrats in the assembly. This year they have extended their senate majority slightly, and will have a margin of supremacy of 21 to 12.

If the assembly partisan division is accepted as a rough guide to the attitude of the electorate, the Republican position there in perspective is somewhat uncertain. Taking into account only the elections of this century, the 53-47 ratio is the leanest of any year that the Republicans have had a majority. As recently as 1947, for example, the Republican party had 88 of the 100 seats in the lower house. It enjoyed margins of two-thirds to three-fourths control during the decade that followed. The historical comparison strongly suggests that there remains in Wisconsin a viable two party system, which is what good government needs, and that the Democratic position is not as bleak as may be indicated by its defeat for governor, among other examples.

Our Madison correspondent has noted that the educational attainment of the legislators has steadily advanced, and that the 1967 session will be unusual for the level of experience in state and local governmental affairs of its members. With the substantially higher salaries now authorized for newly elected or re-elected members, we have a right to anticipate good performance during the next six or seven months.

Stop Bombing?

The inability of anyone to talk with the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong is pointed up by the latest appeal of Secretary General U Thant. In reply to the United States' request that U Thant use his good offices to bring peace in Vietnam, the Secretary General said that the unconditional halting of American bombing raids on North Vietnam must be the first step.

Certainly United States officials can be expected to be dubious that a halt in the bombing will bring about peace. They tried that a year ago when the United States unilaterally extended the New Year's truce for several weeks as far as bombing raids were concerned. But at that time there was no reciprocal slowdown in the infiltration of North Vietnamese troops into the south or in Viet Cong attacks. South Vietnamese and American officers insist that the halt merely gave the Communists an opportunity to rebuild and regroup and then fight a tougher war.

There has also been an indication that the leaders in Hanoi think that if they continue to fight, the United States will back down or even withdraw American troops because of the presidential election in 1968. A cessation of bombing would undoubtedly strengthen this argument and make at least some North Vietnamese officials think that a combination of increased American casualties and the unpopularity of the war at home was forcing the United States out of the war. If this is the primary opinion in North Vietnam, a continued halt in the bombing would mean an increased military pressure by the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong rather than any scaling down of military operations which is U Thant's second point in his plan to end the war.

But it is notable that U Thant did not first of all point out the failures of North Vietnam to indicate any interest in peaceful negotiations. Instead he turned to the United States and requested the bombing halt as a first step. President de Gaulle in his New Year speech also placed the entire blame for the war upon the United States and never bothered to indicate that the North Vietnamese had any responsibility for starting or continuing the war.

Despite these obvious discrepancies we think the United States should seriously consider a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam. And we take this position on several counts.

In the first place, despite what we believe to be the sincere intention of the American officials to hit only military or other strategic targets, the reports from New York Times correspondent Harrison Salisbury show that a considerable amount of residential areas have been hit although the reported casualties have not been exceptionally high. Secondly, while the bombing may slow down some infiltration into the south it has not noticeably hindered it. In fact the estimated monthly infiltration rate is almost double what it was a year ago before the raids were resumed in a much more serious fashion.

While a bombing halt may in some respect fail to give our fighting men on the ground in Vietnam all the support they need, this is true in any case unless we authorize a policy of razing North Vietnam to the ground. Quite obviously we have the fire power to do it, despite the growing shortage of combat pilots, and what appear to be some serious flaws in our supply systems. Since this is supposed to be a limited war we can justify our limiting it still further even on a unilateral basis for the time being.

Almost every report from Vietnam emphasizes the tremendous misery that the war is bringing to the people in the south whom we are trying to help. More and more we must suspect that our real reason for the continued escalation is not to help the Vietnamese people or to keep Southeast Asia from falling to communism but to save the pride of the United States. We should not compound our errors to this end.

And finally what are our alternatives? To defeat the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong the experts tell us we must not only expect to fight on as we are for at least two years but for perhaps ten more in the South Vietnamese jungles. We may escalate the war still further and if this does not bring a direct threat of more intervention by the Soviet Union or Red China it certainly will not contribute to the efforts for better relations which we point toward in other parts of the world. The pressure toward this increased war effort will be upon the president as the election year nears. The third alternative — complete withdrawal — is unthinkable.

But a halt in the bombing might give the South Vietnamese an indication that they may have to take over their war and face their problems in far greater measure than they have. The National Liberation Front must be dealt with. The pacification program must go forward. But the United States cannot continue to take over more and more of every responsibility and expect to develop an independent and self-sufficient nation.

We must balance the possible handicap to our military forces in Vietnam that may come with a halt in the bombing raids with the possibilities of a real end to the war or at least a keeping of the war within limitations that no longer exist. And in making the decision we must recognize that every escalation by the Americans has resulted not in persuasion of the enemy toward negotiations but instead a hardening of the lines opposed to a truce.

Snow Didn't Defeat Napoleon in Russia; It Happened in Summer

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

WASHINGTON — The snow is here, and how! Napoleon had the snow. But it did not defeat him in Russia. Seldom in history have so many believed the wrong answer.

Taylor

Napoleon was defeated in summer weather, not winter.

He crossed the Niemen, from Poland into Russia, on the morning of July 24, 1812, two hours after dawn. It was 550 miles to Moscow.

Three columns — they totaled finally 450,000 men — made the passage on three pontoon bridges, gasping under the heat of a blazing sun. This heat, and the dust that choked the Grand Army, were Russia's real allies.

Bonaparte thought his soldiers would follow him to the end of the world. But only the hard core of the French army was solid; the majority were a motley crew of disgruntled Poles, exiled Italians, Scots, Irish and English, 20,000 conscript Prussians and 30,000 disgruntled Austrians who couldn't care less what happened to Napoleon.

ON HEELS OF TSAR

On July 1 he entered Wilno on the heels of the Russian tsar. The appalling heat and dust had already cost him 20,000 horses and 2,000 men in less than seven days. And when Marshal Ney went to dent; and Ray Winske, secretary.

10 YEARS AGO
Thursday, Jan. 3, 1957

The St. Mary's Juniors were champions of the 8th grade basketball tournament held during the holidays under the sponsorship of Appleton Recreation Department. Team members included: Dennis Garvey and Ralph Whitehead.

The Roosevelt Globetrotters won the 7th grade championship in the same tournament. This team included Capt. Jack Lesse, Bob McKee, Mike Lee, Dave Emerich, John Wendt and Dave Wollwage.

Named to work chairmanships for the Ladies Aid Society of Trinity Lutheran Church, Neenah, were Mrs. Carl Hagen and Mrs. Adolph Alfertig for the fancy work. Mrs. Rudolph Knudson and Mrs. Charles McVay, the rug committee.

women in the Army and Navy Nurses Corps included Miss Josephine Smith at Fort Custer, Mich.; Miss Marcella Heinke, U.S. Navy Hospital, Washington, D.C.; Miss Helen Hopka, Hines Veterans Hospital, Hines, Ill.; Miss Bernice Landig, was to leave for Fort Custer in mid-January.

Miss Mary Klinkner, Chilton, Theda Clark Hospital nursing graduate of 1937, also was in service as an Air Corps nurse at San Francisco, Calif.

Officers of the Waupaca High School Camera Clickers Club were Calvin Wood, president; Dick Kruske, vice presi-

On August 16 Napoleon found his first fight. It was at Smolensk. Reaching the heights, with the Russians arrayed below him, Napoleon cried: "I have them." He was wrong. After a two-day battle, and after missing earlier three great opportunities to destroy the Russian army in being, which is the first requirement in any war, he missed the fourth time.

The Russians withdrew behind the unfordable Dnieper River. Napoleon crossed it, and then came Borodino. This battlefield was in the marshy area of the Moscova River. Bonaparte faced 120,000 Russians with heavier artillery than his own. He began his bombardment with 600 guns. It was a victory — the victory which opened the door to Moscow.

But the French lost 25,000 men and a third of Napoleon's guns had to be left behind. They were bogged down in Borodino's sea of mud, unable to be advanced by the starved horses and exhausted troops.

By then Napoleon's casualties had been nearly incredible. Smolensk, Borodino, skirmishes and disease left only 180,000 out of the original 450,000 men able to fight. And it was still only September 7. The Corsican mystic slept that night in a western suburb of Moscow. The next morning he blasted open the city's portals and entered through the Drogomilov Gate.

Twin thrones were waiting in the Kremlin for two tsars, and Moscow had been burned previously seven times in its ancient past. It was being burned again. This was one of the Russian people's chronicles.

Napoleon stood on the Kinietzky bridge and gazed at the Kremlin's reflection in the balmy waters. He inspected the great tsar bell of the Kremlin with its jagged hold. He held one (only) parade in what is now Red Square. But the city was a shell and by October 4 he asked the enemy to treat with him.

RETREAT BEGINS

On October 18 the Russians treated with him by defeating Marshal Murat at Vinkovo. The next morning Napoleon moved his whole army out. The famous retreat began on the 24th. And Napoleon vanished from his army like a pricked balloon in perfect weather.

He was defeated by a strategy born of his own inefficiency, not the climate. Actually, even the frost came later than usual that year. The weather was dry and bracing through November 8, and the thermometer fell only to 23 degrees that December. Not until two months after he left did the awful snows in the icy wastes strike the frozen shadows Napoleon had left to wander after him.

Nor did defeated Napoleon plod homeward on a horse, as painters have so often depicted him and illustrated books usually show. He traveled in a hooded coach, and he traveled at top speed.

Napoleon covered the 1,400 miles from Vilna to Paris in 312 hours. This had been the speed of communications since time immemorial — fast horses to carry a man or a message. And the message he carried to Paris is the political classic of all time: "My Russian campaign was a severe trial, but I came through it perfectly."

Republican Victory May Not be as Solid As It First Seemed

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — In the backward glance that comes naturally with the turn of the calendar, perhaps the most important Wisconsin public event of the last year was the restoration of the Republican Party to decisive power in state affairs, with a hint that the historic partisan alignment is being re-established.

Wyngaard

No doubt the easy re-election of the incumbent Republican congressmen and the recapture of two Democratic congressional seats by the Republicans were effected in considerable degree by national issues and popular concern with such problems as remote from state affairs as the tragic events in Vietnam.

A more relevant assessment of state political trends is provided in the November state elections, where the most dramatic and important event was the decisive margin of victory and the general preference of the electorate for the Republican viewpoint in state government, the legislature has been returned to solid Republican control, which is the normal state of affairs in Wisconsin. It is not often recalled, but there remain only a handful of persons in Wisconsin who can remember when the Democrats wholly controlled the legislature. The last time that state of affairs prevailed was in 1893.

ASSEMBLY MARGIN NARROW

All this is undoubtedly satisfying to the Republicans, but it is not to say that their victories were overwhelming or necessarily permanent. It has been noted here that the margin of 53-47 in favor of the Republicans in the Assembly is a modest one, given the decisive margin of the state office ticket of the party. It suggests broadly that the electorate was voting with considerable care and that in many instances it preferred Democratic legislative aspirants over the Democratic candidates for higher offices, including the Democratic candidates for higher offices, Including the Democratic gubernatorial nominee. The evidence of picking and choosing and an unusual independence of outlook of the voters in the state this year becomes clearer as the total election results are analyzed in depth.

The Knowles vote margin of around 90,000 was a good one in any fair comparison. But as the Republican headquarters analysts know, but choose to say little about, is the curious fact that much of that favorable vote was piled up in normally Democratic counties, while there was a good deal of slippage in what has come to be known as Republican territory on the basis of past performance.

Republicans are chortling, as is their right, about good gains in such Democratic strongholds as Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha and Dane Counties, and to a lesser degree in Sheboygan County. They were important and they were remarkable. The gubernatorial victory by a 60 per cent margin in Pat Lucev's home county of Dane has the professional politicians muttering in their beer even today.

EROSION ELSEWHERE

Evidently Knowles looked "liberal" enough, and there were enough grievances against Lucev among normally Democratic voters, to score big breakthroughs in districts where his own men had scarcely dared hope to gain even a percentage point or two. But measured against such triumphs must be the equally significant, although less publicized thus far, erosion of Republican voting power — at least in statehouse terms — in some of the historically Republican zones. These include such populous districts as Fond du Lac, Winnebago, Outagamie and Brown Counties in the Fox River Valley. In nearly a third of the counties, in fact, the Knowles vote in percentage was below that which he collected in the difficult year of 1964.

Were these deviations from the traditional pattern temporary, reflecting the personalities and circumstances of the year? Or do they betray signs of a realignment, of Republican gains in Democratic districts, and Democratic advances in Republican territory? No one can be sure. Nothing is quite as inexact as political science. But it is a fair surmise that the Republicans are not quite as strong as they appear, or Democrats as weak.

Thoughts at Large Occupy Harris Today

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Half the people in the world spend their time in making simple things much more complex than they need to be; while the other half spend their time in trying to persuade us that complex things are much more simple than they really are.

It was not an idealist, or theoretician, but Napoleon himself who made the state-

Children want to cut what they cannot untie; and adults too often try to undo by force what they cannot straighten out by patient persuasion — war being the most glaring and widespread example of this infinite residue in the human race.

The most intolerable old people are those who are keeping themselves alive out of sheer habit and sense of survival: the most engaging are those who want to keep alive in order to find out what is going to happen in the world next week.

Speaking of "what is going to happen," I am convinced that by the year 2000, if anyone is still around by then, we will be living without work, as we understand it today; and a creative and constructive way, rather than boring ourselves to extinction with what we delusively call "leisure" today.

The most dangerous man in the world is he who believes he is acting without prejudice, for nobody acts without prejudice — and the most we can do is admit that we harbor this sub-clinical infection of the soul, and make allowances for its inevitable influence on our judgments, as a scientist weighs the "personal equation" in his laboratory activities.

Conservatives In Ascendancy At White House

Moyer's Resignation Brought Rejoicing By Watson Element

WASHINGTON — The full impact on the Johnson presidency of the resignation of Bill D. Moyers has now become inescapably clear, three weeks

Novak after the resignation was announced.

Even though Moyers is still physically present as part of Mr. Johnson's official family (he leaves the end of the month), his resignation accelerated a trend that has been clearly evident to close students of the Johnson White House for the past six months.

The President is returning ever closer to the conservative establishment of Texas which always provided his political base. In this time of personal political crisis, he is looking not to the Presidential staff (though ever more inward to a tight little circle of advisers.

Indeed, Moyers' departure marks the victory of an inward-looking group of aides whose own roots and attitudes are, like the President's deep in the Texas establishment. The loser is a rival group of aides, led by Moyers, that looks outward to the world beyond Texas.

Moyer Gets Blame

Any skepticism about this interpretation is dispelled by a visit to Texas. There, the establishment led by Gov. John B. Connally is openly rejoicing Moyers' group and an elder in about the departure of Moyers, whom they blame — quite unjustly — for all of the President's current ill fortune.

For although it is not widely recognized in Washington, it is as well known in Texas that the rivalry between the Moyers' and the anti-Moyers' group has been waged from the very day Lyndon Johnson entered the White House.

Ideology is only incidental to that rivalry, although the orientation of the Moyer's group is liberal and the anti-Moyers' group is conservative. That's with because Mr. Johnson, committed to the liberal programs of the Democratic Party's Northern wing, has left policymaking to the Moyers' group.

Nor will that change with Moyers' departure. Policy will continue to come generally from the Moyers' group and specifically, from Joseph Califano, the young Brooklyn lawyer brought to the White House from the Pentagon by Moyers. There was never a chance that the President would revert to the economic and civil rights conservatism of the Texas establishment.

Where the anti-Moyers' group has exerted its influence is not in policy but in attitudes. These attitudes are inward-looking — intensely suspicious of the academic community, the Kennedys and, in fact, the National Democratic Party.

Had Liberal Ties
Moyers, maintaining good ties with the liberals and the Kennedys, was uniquely able to influence both policies and attitudes of Mr. Johnson until about six months ago. It was then that the anti-Moyers' group quietly began its ascendancy, starting with the political isolation of the President.

Evidence of this is everywhere. Jake Jacobsen, an astute Texas conservative (who also is resigning to return to law practice in Austin) replaced Moyers as the President's closest confidant. Texas conservative Horace Busby, one of the President's oldest and ablest aides who resigned in 1965 after losing out in a bitter rivalry with Moyers, has now returned to Presidential favor (though not to the Presidential staff) in recent weeks. Busby has been a frequent visitor to the LBJ Ranch.

Long before his resignation, Moyers' influence over presidential attitudes had been diminishing. Since his resignation, he has become the target of the sort of unkind, off-hand remarks that constitute the President's worst personality trait.

Thus, the chief attitude-maker at the White House now becomes W. Marvin Watson, Jr., the right-wing steel executive who is leader of the anti-Moyers' group and an elder in the Texas establishment. Although Watson would not attempt to impose his own conservative policy views on the administration, his significance as an attitude-maker is profound.

Exodus Threatens
The departure of Moyers, who has quietly pleaded with top administration officials not to leave the Great Society, threatens a mass exodus precisely because of Watson's heightened influence. On more than a few occasions, disputes between Watson and Moyers have brought "Learning to read and write, build roads and schools is fine, but when they gonna teach us something practical like operating a black market?"

Bishop Sheen Forms Office For Inner-City

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The Most Rev. Fulton J. Sheen, newly appointed bishop of the Rochester Roman Catholic Diocese, has formed what he believes is the first diocesan office in the country to deal with inner-city problems.

The bishop also announced Tuesday that a 36-year-old priest and member of a militant threatened resignations from key officials.

By the same token, recruiting efforts to get new hands for the undermanned White House staff, which have met stubborn resistance in recent months, are likely to get worse with Moyers gone. Indeed, the staff is likely to get even thinner with the unannounced departure of Hayes Redmond, Moyers' chief aide.

And, on a broader basis, Watson — unlike Moyers — is a yes-man inside the White House who seldom challenges the President's own attitudes. At a time when Mr. Johnson desperately needs to broaden his political contacts, the new and pre-stifling mood set by Watson in the White House is almost certain to narrow them even further.

He is the Rev. P. David Finks, assistant pastor of Immaculate Conception church here, and a member of FIGHT, a civil rights group.

Father Finks will bear the title of episcopal vicar of urban ministry for the Roman Catholic Diocese of Rochester.

The appointment was the first to be made by Bishop Sheen since he took charge of the diocese Dec. 15.

In a letter to Father Finks, the bishop, known nationally because of his television programs, pledged an active search for ways to relieve the plight of slum neighborhoods.

$1.8 Billion Damage, 12,100 Deaths Caused By Fires During 1966

BOSTON (AP) — Fire caused approximately 12,100 deaths and some $1.8 billion in property loss during 1966, preliminary figures by the National Fire Protection Association showed Wednesday.

The estimated death toll was up some 100 over the 1965 total and apparently equalled the record high of 12,100 set in 1954, the NFPA said.

Should the property loss total be final, the NFPA said, it will be an all-time high. The previous record of $1.78 billion was recorded in 1963.

The fire victims included about 2,100 children, the NFPA reported.

Director Promises Updated Capital Improvement Plan

Asks School's Building Program With Revised Budget Format

Finance Director Henry Schreve said he will have an updated capital improvement program — with cost estimates — ready for Appleton Council review sometime in March.

Schreve told the council's finance committee Tuesday night he was waiting for information from the board of education on its future construction and major capital improvement outlay plans.

Some time ago the council informed the school board that it should make an effort to revise its budget format and the latter agreed to cooperate.

There have been exchange of letters, according to Schreve, and now he intends to meet with William Knuth, schools' business manager, to carry out the suggestions of the council, board and Appleton Taxpayers Association.

Seeking Information
"If I recall correctly," commented Ald. Alvin E. Tews (5th), "we asked the school board to supply us with information on its future plans."

Tews felt it was too early to have the committee meet with the school board until Knuth and Schreve have a chance to get together.

However, Tews emphasized there should be no delay in compiling future major projects of the city administration as well as the board of education, the latter using up a major share of today's tax dollar.

"I think it is real important for us to know where we are headed in terms of necessary capital improvements and what effect they will have on future tax rates," Tews declared.

Requests Sought
Ald. John MacDonald (7th) agreed, and also suggested that heads of all municipal departments, boards and agencies submit equipment replacement requests far in advance of next year's budget hearings.

"In this way, the finance committee will be able to take a look at the equipment to be replaced and make a determination as to whether the proposed expenditure is necessary," MacDonald said.

"Under the present setup," he added, "we have to act on paper requests without having the benefit of seeing for ourselves what condition the equipment might be in."

The committee said the department of public works should also expedite a requested inventory on all municipal vehicles, including those owned by the school and park boards.

Job Corpsmen Start Disturbance

CAMP MC COY (AP)—About 40 trainees at the Camp McCoy Job Corps Center created a minor disturbance Tuesday night in protest against disciplinary action facing one of the corpsmen, an official of the center reported today.

Bill Robersen, public relations coordinator for the center said that the men, in three dormitories, started a demonstration shortly after "lights out" around 11:30 p.m. The supervisors were able to bring the disturbance under control within minutes, according to Robersen. There were no injuries and damage to windows and furniture was estimated at less than $50.
